Damaged buildings demolished in Eminence; Incident ruled arson

BY CHRIS BROOKE
editor@hclocal.com

Investigators have determined the blaze that destroyed two historic buildings in Eminence July 27 was intentionally set, according to Eminence Fire Chief Gary Lucas.

Meanwhile, the owners of the South Main Street properties on Oct. 14 said the damaged buildings had to come down as they were no longer structurally sound.

Demolition on the building that most recently housed Johnson Flooring took most of Oct. 20, but work to bring down the second building damaged in the fire had to wait while officials considered a development that would affect yet a third building.

But the wait on determining

Trackside breaks ground

The whistle and rumble of trains going by the Henry County Commerce Park at Campbellsburg bracketed the speeches during the groundbreaking ceremony for a 5,400-square-foot multi-species meat processing facility on Oct. 14.

“It is called Trackside [Butcher Shoppe] and in a moment you’ll know why it was called Trackside,” joked Steve Moore, the Cooperative Extension Agent for Henry County, to the crowd of more than 75 people when he noticed a train coming.

Candidates debate who would make best judge-exec

BY MELISSA BLANKENSHIP
publisher@hclocal.com

When voters take to the polls Nov. 4, they will choose whether to retain the services of John Logan Brent as Henry County Judge-Executive or choose a new judge in challenger Ricky Doyle.

The two men took advantage of the opportunity to address potential voters at a county candidate forum on Oct. 11 at Henry County High School. The forum, sponsored by the Henry County Chamber of Commerce and Henry County Local, provided the candidates with time to describe their experiences and qualifications, as well as answer questions submitted by the audience.

The first to speak, Democrat incumbent Brent focused on the accomplishments of the 12 years he’s served as judge.

“I know the job. There’s not a ser-

Hydroponics operation takes out option on Commerce Park land

BY CHRIS BROOKE
editor@hclocal.com

A hydroponic greenhouse operation took out an option on 11 acres of land in the Henry County Commerce Park with the goals of growing produce year-round and creating jobs for veterans.

Fred Johnson, chief operating officer of C3L Associates, appeared at a special Henry County Fiscal Court meeting Oct. 17 about the land option.

Johnson, who just retired from the Army after 29 years, explained the idea involves 43,000 square feet of growing space, or one acre, under glass.

With that amount of space, the company could grow between 7,000 and 10,000 pounds of produce per week with the hydroponics operation, he explained. The company would create 12 jobs, including a site manager, the head grower, a facility technician and nine workers who will make a living wage and benefits.

“The bottom line of this is we did an estimate growing arugula, which is a wanted commodity particularly in Louisville,” Johnson said. “If we grew one year’s worth of arugula it would give us revenue of about $1.5 million. Our entire project is $2.5 million.”

That includes $1.3 million for the greenhouse, $400,000 for the hydroponics and on the construction of the facility.

Company officials plan to supply produce to Kroger stores in a five-state region, and the greenhouse intended for Henry County would serve as a proving ground that they could grow enough of a supply for the retail stores, Johnson said.

Anthony Coggiola, who Johnson went to college with in South Carolina and served in Desert Storm with, came up with the hydroponics idea in response to the needs of the Kurdish leaders in Iraq. Johnson explained that the Kurds needed to figure out how to grow food in a mountainous region where there wasn’t a lot of water.

Coggiola developed the hydroponics system to grow in the mountains, using less land and less water.

Hydroponics has the advantages of using 7 percent less water than conventional growing, as well as no herbicides and pesticides, Johnson told the fiscal court. But the instability and insurgency in Iraq halted the plan there.

Coggiola hired Johnson to implement this system in the United States as a way to help fellow members of the military.

In response to questions, Johnson said the company would begin growing lettuce, because they can grow all year and produce a lot.

Once they establish the financial viability, the effort would add vine crops like tomatoes, peppers and cucumbers. The last phase would involve aquaculture, raising fish.

Adding more greenhouses would mean hiring more workers, he said.

The excavator gradually knocked the building down from the back, mashed the debris down further and climbed up the pile of rubble until the arm could reach the top of the building and pull it backwards. Once the excavator could reach the top, the facade came down relatively quick.

what caused the fire is over.

After talking with the state police investigator inspector Oct. 17, Lucas said the fire stemmed from arson, started with an accelerant.

“It was set,” Lucas said. “There is a basic petroleum-type substance that was there at the location where we found the point of origin,” the fire chief said.

The investigators took samples at the scene and took them back to the lab to find out what happened. Lucas added the investigation continues. There is no person of interest at this point.

Thomas Paul owned the red building that stood next to Eminence Cleaners, and Ray DeVary owned the building where Johnson Flooring had just set up shop when the blaze broke out that Sunday morning in July.

Lucas predicted early on that the fire weakened the structures and the buildings would have to be demolished.

While the affected building owners began preparing for the demolition to begin Oct. 14, that got pushed back a few days for Paul’s building due to complications with the neighboring Eminence Cleaners building. Lucas said that an engineer came in Oct. 16 to check out the structures.

“They brought an engineer yesterday to look at the stability — or instability if you will,” he said. “The way those buildings were built, there’s concern the way the walls were tied together. There’s a common wall between the cleaners and the original burned building.”

If the cleaners location became unstable as a result, it would have to come down, too, Lucas said. Because of state regulations, that third building might not come down for 10 days.

Like the two buildings being demolished, an inspector has to check for asbestos at the cleaner’s under state air quality regulations, he said.

City officials wanted to remove the danger from the weakened buildings, and the building owners are ready, as well, Lucas said. “The owners want it as bad as anybody — they want to get this behind them.”

The destructive fire originated in an upstairs apartment bedroom over what used to be Ann’s Kut ‘n Kurl and burned through the floor, shot flames out the windows and caused the attic in the neighboring structure to catch, too. On that day, more than 50 firefighters from multiple departments responded to contain the blaze that woke much of the city.

Both owners expressed regret about the buildings needing to be torn down.

On Oct. 14, workers began constructing a plywood barrier next to Melissa’s Treasure Chest, to keep falling debris away from the neighboring shop.

“It’s too damaged,” Paul said. “I would love to save them. They’re just too far gone — you can’t do it.”

For his part, Paul said the insurance coverage provided isn’t enough to rebuild on the site.

DeVary owned his building for 30 years and worked from there for 28 years as DeVary’s Heating and Air, so he’s sorry to see the building go.

“I’ve done a lot of work to it myself inside over the years,” he said. “I hate to lose it. It’s just too far gone.”

DeVary also owns the building that houses Melissa’s Treasure Chest and feels like the fire could have destroyed that one, too.

The distance between the two across the alley helped save the building on the corner of Main and Depot.

As for future plans,

DeVary might put the cleared lot with his other property.

“My thinking at this time — it might not work out this way — I might make a parking lot for her business up here, Melissa’s Treasure Chest,” he explained.

With the investigation ongoing, what could have motivated a person to set a fire, to jeopardize the lives of residents and emergency workers, to ruin businesses and to destroy property remains a mystery, Lucas said.

“It could have very easily involved that whole block over there.”

Pleasureville man arrested in armed robbery

BY KENNY COLSTON
Landmark News Service

Two men have been arrested in connection to an armed robbery at the Thornton’s on Highway 146 in Buckner.

Douglas A. Orr, 28, from Pleasureville, was arrested and charged with first-degree robbery, first-degree assault and receiving stolen property. John Manning, 47, from La Grange, was arrested as an accomplice in the crime and charged with complicity to robbery, first-degree and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

According to Oldham County Police, an armed robbery was reported at 1:53 a.m. Friday morning at the Thornton’s location. Police said a white male, who they identified as Orr, entered the store wearing a mask and attempted to rob the gas station.

During the robbery, the clerk was shot and was transported to University of Louisville Hospital for treatment for a non-life threatening injury. Orr then fled the scene.

Orr, Manning and a third person, Holly Bardis, were arrested later Friday. Bardis was not charged in connection to the robbery, but was arrested on another warrant when found with the two men.

The Oldham County Sheriff’s Office, La Grange Police and Louisville Metro Police assisted OCPD.

Kosair Charities fundraiser comes to Eminence Oct. 25

The third annual Kosair Charities Boo to You fundraiser is coming to the Kentucky Renaissance Fair in Eminence Oct. 25 from 1 to 5 p.m.

The intent of Boo to You is to raise money to help children who receive support for medical needs from Kosair Charities, such as Addie Childers, who has cerebral palsy, which affects her balance coordination and speech.

“Walking can be a challenge, but with the right help and adaptive equipment, she’s determined to live life to the fullest,” according to information from Kosair. “Her parents turned to Kosair Charities for help several times when insurance would not cover the treatment and equipment that Childers needed.”

The Childers have hosted the Boo to You event on their property, but it has grown so much organizers moved the fundraiser to the Ren Fair.

Activities will include face painting, pony rides, a haunted trail, bounce houses, a trick-or-treat trail, magicians, Renaissance acts and more.

Admission cost is $10 per child 14 years and younger. Adults are free.

Police: Drunken accident on Highway 42 kills Bedford woman Oct. 16

STAFF REPORTS
An Oldham County man has been charged with murder after a crash Oct. 16 in Trimble County killed a Bedford woman with Henry County ties, according to Kentucky State Police. KSP Post 5 received a call of a non-injury crash at 8:42 p.m. Oct. 16. Keccia Jansen, 48, and her son, Nicholas

Mendenhall, 29, both of LaGrange, had been drinking at a bar in Carrollton that night, according to a KSP news release. Jansen left that bar and drove onto Highway 42 into Trimble County, state police said. She attempted to turn the vehicle around and go back to the bar but became stuck on the side of the road, which resulted in the call to KSP dispatch. In the meantime, Connie Hughes, 64, Bedford, stopped while passing by and parked her vehicle at the top of a hill on Highway 42 to keep traffic from hitting Jansen. Troopers say that while the first incident took place on Highway 42, Mendenhall stole a vehicle from a residence on Highway 42 and began driving home, taking the same route as Jansen. "When Mendenhall reached the place in the road where Hughes was parked, he failed to stop and ran into her vehicle," according to the news release. Hughes was flown to the University of Louisville Hospital, where she was pronounced dead. Troopers charged Mendenhall with murder, driving under the influence and five counts of wanton endangerment due to other people who were at the scene at the time of the crash, the news release said. He was also charged by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office with theft of a vehicle.

Jansen was charged with DUI, the news release said. Both were taken to the Carroll County Detention Center. Hughes was a member of the Franklinton Baptist Church in Henry County and is survived by family members who live in Eminence, according to her obituary.

BREAKS

Gov. Steve Beshear attended the groundbreaking of a new facility that will continue growth as agriculture continues to diversify from tobacco, Beshear said. Agriculture has always been a cornerstone of Kentucky's economy, and it's projects like Trackside that will continue growth as agriculture continues to diversify from tobacco, Beshear said. Fortunately, Kentucky officials decided to use the tobacco settlement moneys to help with that transition, the governor said. While the state spend the money on individual farms, Beshear said he asked the agriculture officials to look at ways to use the settlement money to help communities and regions build their agriculture economy. "And, boy, I can't think of a better example of a project like that than what we're here to celebrate today and break ground on," the governor said. "These folks are stepping up." This project will keep the agricultural dollars in Kentucky, instead of giving farmers little choice but to take their animals out of state for processing. Beshear said keeping that business in Henry County will benefit the community and the region. "All you folks around here have been shipping those cattle, I think, up to Indiana, so Indiana got that dollar when it turned over again in the processing process," he said. "Well, I'm sorry, Hoosiers, we're going to take it back because we're going to have it right here in Kentucky." The more times that dollar can turn over here, the better off the economy will be, the more people will make money, and it will boost the quality of life, Beshear said. Kentucky officials believe in Trackside so much, the state will put up to $500,000 in the project, he said. A feasibility study showed lots of support in the region for a meat processing plant even before Edwards and Wright came along with their idea for Trackside, Moore told the crowd. Local officials didn't know who was going to be the ones to take on the project, but then Edwards and Wright had a conversation with Henry County Judge-Executive John Logan Brent. "Jon Edwards and Chris Wright are local, they are farmers themselves, they are businessmen, they are entrepreneurs," Moore said. "They have also been direct marketers of meat. They understand a lot of the principles and processes, and they came forward and said this is something they want to do." For the last two months, Brent found people all over the county who feel excited about Trackside, he told the audience. "Our farmers are excited about this," he said. "You're going to create a few jobs, and the other group that's excited is the consumer — people want to buy locally grown fresh food, and you all are going to make that happen, so it's a good day." The last to speak, Beshear wrapped up his speech as the second train approached, when he, Edwards and Wright and the state and local officials walked across Commerce Park Road for the groundbreaking. Edwards and Wright, both of whom hail from Trimble County, want to open their Henry County facility by summer 2015. "I need to emphasize, Chris and I want to earn the business of this area," Edwards said after the groundbreaking. "We know some people will choose our service because of convenience, but others will need to know they can trust us for a quality job and to get every bit of the product they dropped off back when they pick it up. "Customer satisfaction will be our focus. We want to be a fixture of the community, we want Trackside to be a household name. When people intend to process one of their animals, we want them to think 'Trackside.' When they think about buying a side of beef for their family, we want them to think, 'Trackside.' When they plan a cookout or hog roast, we want them to think 'Trackside.'" A study, supported by the Kentucky Agricultural Development Fund in 2013, determined it economically feasible for the region to support such a facility, according to a news release from the governor's office. Factors contributing to the feasibility of the project include the large demand of processing services, large quantity of livestock and reduced transportation costs for farmers in the area. The meat processing facility received support from a combination of grant and loan funding from the Kentucky Agricultural Development Fund, including $127,500 in county agricultural development funds from Henry, Oldham, Owen, Shelby and Trimble counties. The state is contributing $372,500 in funding. The total project is estimated to cost nearly $1 million.

Becoming an informed voter despite candidates

As a voter, I take advantage of opportunities to learn more about the candidates asking for my vote. Yard signs and sensationalized TV ads don't tell me much, so I try to find ways to look a little deeper at those interested in representing me at local, state or federal levels.

Most candidates have a social media presence, but nothing beats a face-to-face encounter to really give you a sense of the person behind the pictures and words on a screen.

That's why we were happy to partner with the Chamber of Commerce to provide a county candidate forum last week.

Overall, I was quite pleased with the turnout, which was not comprised of just candidates and their family members. There were supporters and party activists in attendance, but there were also quite a few people who were simply determined to become educated voters.

MELISSA blankenship

I'd like to publicly thank and recognize the candidates who chose to attend and speak at the forum. I know public speaking is not an easy thing for everyone, but if you intend to serve in a very public way, I think you should be ready to present yourself to the public. We invited candidates for coroner, sheriff, judge and the candidates for magistrate in districts 2, 3, 4 and 5.

Thank you to the following candidates who chose to attend the forum: James Pollard and Garrett Woods, candidates for Henry County Coroner; Roger Hartlage, candidate for district 2 magistrate; Nick Hawkins and Robbie Smither, candidates for district 4 magistrate; Danny Cravens and Danny Stivers, candidates for Henry County Sheriff; and John Logan Brent and Ricky Doyle, candidates for Henry County Judge-Executive.

There were also a few candidates who attended even though they were not afforded an opportunity to speak, but took advantage of a chance to reach out to potential voters to say, "This is me, I'd appreciate your vote." So, thanks also to Polly Troxell, candidate for Eminence City Council, Michael Pate and Timothy Feeley, candidates for Family Court Judge, Justin Sanders, candidate for the Court of Appeals and Michelle Keller, candidate for Kentucky Supreme Court Justice.

And District 1 Magistrate Scott Bates and District 2

Constable Roland Duke also attended even though they won't have any opposition on the ballot.

To the candidates who were not in attendance at the forum, I apologize if you had a legitimate reason for missing it. If you had to work, were ill, had a family emergency, etc., I wish you had let us know and I would have announced that at the forum. Otherwise, it would appear as though you simply chose not to be there, and I think your absence sent its own message.

If you have the audacity to ask for my vote, you should have the decency to show up and explain who you are and why I should vote for you.

Those four minutes at a podium could have spoken volumes about you as a candidate, just as your absence did.

There were people who told me after the forum that what they heard there helped them make a decision about who they would vote for on Nov. 4. That was our exact intention for hosting the event. If you chose not to be there – voters and candidates alike – you missed out on an excellent opportunity.

Please see Section B of this week's paper to learn more about your local candidates, and good luck to everyone on the ballot. Election results will be in the Nov. 5 issue of the Henry County Local.

Letters to the Editor

County economic development efforts

Recently I was visited by Ricky Doyle as he was campaigning. I was cutting my grass and we only talked briefly and I got back to work. Ricky left me a piece of campaign literature that I later reviewed. I was personally hurt by one of the items he listed as an area of emphasis. It related to economic development. If elected he said he "would appoint an active economic development committee."

For the last several years I have served as a member of the current economic development committee. I participated in the discussions when Judge Brent set up meetings to look at how we could improve economic development. As a result the current committee was established. I take exception with Ricky that the current committee has not been active. Members of the committee have spent hours working on economic development. One result is that Henry County is now a "Work Ready Community."

I am not an expert, but I have learned some things about economic development. Let me share a couple of things with you.

First economic development takes money. Henry County is competing with groups around the state and nation with budgets of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Our local committee's budget is less than $5,000. This is why we have a two-pronged approach. Our committee pushed for the formation of Kentucky Connect. It is a regional economic development effort with other counties along the I-71 corridor. The budget for that group is less than $100,000 with Henry County contributing $15,000. For that we get professional development assistance.

Location is number one when it comes to site selection for new industry. Companies want flat building sites. Henry County does not have the quantity of flat land found in other counties located near our infrastructure.

Our topography lends to smaller sites and smaller businesses. That is probably just as well since most growth comes from businesses with less than fifty employees.

In Henry County we currently have two smaller industrial parks that meet those needs. Please remember in Kentucky there are about 180 industrial parks, many with vacant buildings.

Comments have been made about the development of the Pendleton area. That area is the prime area in the county for development. Sewers have been discussed for that area. The problem is that money does not exist. Such a project would require over four million dollars. Grants have dried up. Congress has eliminated earmarks.

Our committee has discussed possible funding with Congressman Massie's office.

It's just not there. Both the Campbellsburg and Eminence sewer projects took years to fund and complete.

As the former owner of Barnett Lumber Co. and a builder, growth is important to me. That being said, I recognize we have some major hurdles. I believe it is unfair for candidate Doyle to accuse Judge Brent of being anti-economic development and accuse him of doing nothing. I know better. It is easy to make promises as a candidate but difficult to fulfill them if elected.

— Harold R. Bratton, Campbellsburg

In support of Judge Feeley for re-election

The upcoming election for the 12th Judicial Family Court Judge is important for the families in Henry, Oldham and Trimble Counties. Having worked in our court system in excess of 27 years, I have observed our judges during this time and wish to express my respect and feelings about the necessary dedication required to do this job well as our judges have done over the years.

When families are in family court, emotions are high. Families in crisis need a judge who is available, understands the importance of mediation and allowing families to reach negotiation when possible. Folks want "their day in court" to be allowed to get whatever he or she has off his or her chest. This often leads to a resolution in the case. If not, a fair ruling by the court must be made. Even if folks don't totally agree with the ruling, they know they can get on with their lives.

Judge Feeley understands this.

He has always been available to the families requiring long hours on the bench to avoid delays and rescheduling. Judge Feeley has always shown support for our schools and understands the importance of education. He understands the importance of "family" and before making often difficult decisions, weighs the recommendations from all sides in cases involving children.

To those of you who may not know Tim Feeley, he is a patient and compassionate man. He is a good man. So please get out and vote.

Supporting John Logan Brent

After working in the County Clerk's Office for 39-plus years as Deputy, County Clerk and then part-time Deputy preparing budgets, writing grants and, most importantly, taking care of the people of my county, I urge you to vote for John Logan Brent for Henry County Judge-Executive on Nov. 4. He has the intelligence, integrity and capability of overseeing the operation of our county government. His job is full of responsibility, not only to oversee the budget and day-to-day operations, but also to keep up with changes in Frankfort, be they new regulations or laws, and to enforce the new changes to keep our county in the black financially.

The budget for the County Clerk's office went from $163,500 in 1970 to over $3 million including grants in 2001. Just think of the amount the county's budget has grown in that timeframe. John Logan Brent has shown integrity and responsibility to the highest standards in his assessment and management of our county's funds.

All of us have come through the terrible recession of 2008 and most have survived. Our county is in the black financially; and we are not embarrassed. Not many can say that. His connections with the departments and people in Frankfort are invaluable to us; the benefit is immeasurable.

Local gas prices go lower, following the national trend

editor@hclocal.com

At approximately 8:30 a.m., Oct. 15, gas prices at convenience stores on Main Street in Eminence held at $3.09 per gallon, but later that same day prices moved lower.

The signs at all three Eminence stations, located within approximately a mile of each other, displayed prices of $2.99 per gallon.

Mike Patel, who owns two stations including Country Express, said low prices are good for both customers and businesses alike.

"It helps everybody," he said. "They have more money to spare."

All goods are linked to gas prices due to the reliance that companies have on transporting goods, he explained. When gas prices go down, so do expenses for businesses. "Gas is a factor in delivering everything."

The Fivestar location in Eminence received its cue from corporate office to lower the price to $2.99, General Manager Larry Tallent said. "Because we believe in charging as little as possible for it, saving our customers money."

Though the prices at the pump in Eminence again rose above $3 later in the week, gasoline prices have been trending downward both state- and nationwide, according to analysis from AAA and gasbuddy.com.

Average retail gas prices in Kentucky fell by 12.8 per gallon to an average of $3 in Kentucky, Gas Buddy said in its weekly price check Oct. 20.

The AAA reported Oct. 13 that 30 percent of U.S. gas stations sold gas for less than $3 per gallon, though the motoring and leisure travel membership association still placed Kentucky's average at $3.09 as of Oct. 15 in its fuel gauge report.

The average price for gas in Kentucky reached its highest point during June, when AAA reports $3.74 per gallon as the state average.

National gas prices on Oct. 15 still hovered around $3.17 for the same period with West Coast states and New York paying the highest for a gallon.

AAA officials noticed the declining gas prices in September. When average gas prices came in at $3.39 — that was the lowest since 2010.

Gas prices generally fall in September due to less demand as summer vacation travel drops off after children go back to school in the fall, the fuel gauge report said.

Plus, many gas stations begin selling less costly winter blend gas during September.

"Gas prices generally have been less expensive than in recent years due to the dramatic boom in North American petroleum production," AAA officials report. "U.S. refineries have taken advantage of increased crude oil supplies to make more gasoline."

In addition, increased domestic production has helped insulate U.S. consumers from conflicts and instability overseas."

"American drivers will have a bit more money to spend or use on savings as gas prices continue to fall," Avery Ash, AAA spokesman, said, quoted in the fuel gauge report. "It is a nice relief for most of us to pay a little less than in recent years to fill up at the gas station."

"Every day, Americans are spending over $100 million less on their gasoline purchases than they did a year ago, some of which will be injected back into the economy in other forms, and with the economic concerns taking shape lately, it could help jolt things back in the right direction," said Gas Buddy's expert, analyst Patrick DeHaan. "I still do believe that the national average will break the $3 per gallon mark by around Election Day."

DEBATE

vice in the county that hasn't been improved since I've been in office for 12 years," Brent said. "There has been over $35 million toward projects over the last 12 years. I have contacts. I know who to call when there are problems. I know how to get things done. And there's financial management. Deputy Judge Bryant and I know that $6.2 million budget, and we've proven ourselves. We're in the black and not many counties can say that."

Republican challenger Ricky Doyle focused not on what had been done, but on what he said needed to be done.

"I am the pro-growth candidate," Doyle said. "It will be my prerogative to get the infrastructure of Henry County up-to-date to standards where we can invite businesses and industry to move to our county. This will create jobs, increase tax base and in general grow Henry County."

After a time of introduction, the candidates were asked a series of questions submitted by the audience. Although topics included supporting the farming community, high-speed communications, fire taxing districts, nepotism policies and animal services, the topic that generated the most audience questions was economic development — how is it created, how it is sustained and what kinds of economic development each candidate would encourage were the questions that generated the most interest.

Brent described four steps that a county needed to take to promote economic development.

"First you have to have your infrastructure ready. You have to foster infrastructure development by going after funds to do that," Brent said, pointing out the monies gained for sewer development in Campbellsburg and Eminence and improvements to Highway 146. "Second, you have to be ready.

Kentucky Connected is a six-county effort. Through this, we have hired an economic development specialist who worked for 17 years with the state. I'm not an economic development expert and neither is my opponent, but we have an economic expert who works for us, a 17-year veteran that Henry County only has to put in $15,000 a year and he's at our fingertips.

"Third, we have to show that we're stable, that we're providing good services, and that we're not going to raise taxes," Brent continued. "Lastly, when they are here, we have to go out of our way to make them feel like they belong here."

Doyle expressed his opinion the county had not been aggressive enough in pursuing economic development opportunities.

"We're doing a lot of talking, but there's no action behind it. We've got to go out and recruit it and get in these businesses' door and go and talk to them and make the contacts," Doyle said. "Other counties are very aggressive, staying with it 365 days a year. We need to get out on your feet and get out and recruit business to get here. We need to advertise; let them know Henry County is open for business. That's the only way you're going to bring business here."

Doyle was also not impressed with the efforts of the local economic development board.

"We've got an economic development board, and I don't mean to run anybody down on that board, it's got some good members, but they need a leader, they need a plan," Doyle said. "It hasn't been too long ago, there was a question asked by Mike Ray, the economic development director. 'Anybody on this board got any new ideas about economic development?' They had to table it because nobody had any answers for him."

"I guarantee you if I'm sitting on that board I'll have an answer for that question for you," Doyle said. "You're not going to do it if you don't have an aggressive plan."

The two candidates had different opinions on the types of businesses best suited for Henry County. Doyle suggested grocery stores and restaurants, pointing out that most Henry Countians work outside the county and spend their money on the way home, not in the county.

Brent asserted that the idea that Henry County didn't want any new development was incorrect, saying he had only opposed two businesses in 12 years — one being the adult bookstore and the other a proposed Oldham County airport that would sit in Henry County.

"I see Henry County poised to get a lot of commercial type business. I'm all for industry, but industry's tough. Eighty percent of industry locate in existing buildings," Brent said.

"We have a real opportunity to get different commercial businesses here. Kroger's not going to come to Eminence. We have to be realistic and go after what we can do."

Where new development could locate was also a point of discussion. The county's comprehensive plan defines industrial and commercial zones.

"We have to have a comprehensive plan to regulate all types of haphazard growth. There are only three industrial zones with sewers," Brent said. "I'm all for Pendleton being developed, but there are certain things that aren't going to happen in Pendleton because of the truck stops there. They define some of the growth that could come to Pendleton."

Doyle disagreed.

"There are lots of things that could come to Pendleton, but it's important that we recognize that Campbellsburg has a lot of opportunities. Pendleton has a lot of opportunities. Eminence has a lot of opportunities. I see some opportunities for Pleasureville over there,"

"cutting edge."

The option remains in effect until March 31. Brent said the option is contingent on the company doing all due diligence, doing the engineering on the property and getting the contract with retail giant Kroger.

Fiscal court representatives expressed support for the project.

"I think it will be a great thing for our community and surrounding communities tackling this with you all," Magistrate David Brown said. "I like the idea of hiring veterans."

In offering the motion to approve the option agreement, Magistrate Nick Hawkins said the idea sounds great and Henry County is blessed to be involved.

All magistrates voted in favor of approving the option agreement.

Doyle said. "Economic development is all about the effort you're gonna put toward it. I go to Fiscal Court meetings and go to economic development meetings somewhat, and I just don't see the effort so much."

Brent countered by stating progress had been made toward economic development, but that it doesn't happen overnight.

"I spent eight years meeting with Jerry Abramson and a group in Louisville about getting local food from Henry County into the local areas. That was a relationship cultivated over eight years," Brent said. "When the city of Eminence needed $647,000 to update their sewer station, I went back to see now-Lt. Governor Abramson. Two days later he called and said, 'You've got your money.' The City of Eminence reaped the benefits of that. You just can't go in day one and have those types of contacts."

In their closing remarks, each candidate reiterated why he was the best choice for judge-executive.

"You know when you're in a position of leadership, you're going to make people upset. It's called being a leader, but whether you personally like Ricky Doyle or you personally like me, it's really irrelevant," Brent said. "The question is, who can do the job. If that $6 million was yours and technically it is, but if it was actually yours, who would you choose to take care of that money?"

"It's about who can do the best with what they have to work with. The budget, we're tops on that, Preggy Bryant is as good as it gets. She goes over everything with a fine-tooth comb and we work on that together," Brent added. "And even the magistrates that don't always agree with me...they will tell you that I do a good job with that budget. And I'm not sure if Ricky's ready for that, the size of that budget. You all will have to decide that. It's a big job."

Doyle was last to speak.

"My opponent here, when he first went into office, he had no experience as judge-executive at all. He had to learn the job, just like I'm gonna have to learn the job. But I'm a fast learner. If you want a guy that's gonna connect with you and work hard with everyone in this county, who can relate to everyone in the county whether they be poor or rich, I'll give you that," Doyle said. "I don't have all the ideas. I don't have a magic wand. I will do it through hard work. That's how I will do it."

"I think we've just got to make our county more prosperous. I don't know everything about the job. He's absolutely right about that, he's more experienced than I am, but he's been there for 12 years," Doyle said. "But I guarantee you one thing, you give me 12 years and I'll bet you see a whole lot more here than he's done in 12 years, I promise you that."

Voters will choose the next county judge-executive on Nov. 4.

and operated operation," Johnson said. "We're also going to hire veterans."

"To get the social good you've got to make money, in order to get the other things that we want to do," he said.

"This whole thing started with me, my participation trying to figure out a way to hire veterans coming out of the Army."

Coggiola's original idea involved starting the operation in Texas, but Johnson moved to Louisville and wanted to pursue it here.

"I was originally hired to go down to Texas but I want to live and die in Kentucky. I want to run this in Kentucky."

One of the advantages involves becoming less dependent on shipping produce from places like California, Florida and Mexico, Johnson said.

"What I propose more than anything is that Kentucky become self-reliant for its own agriculture," he said. "We're going to work with traditional farmers to grow what they can't grow and we'll build a food economy that sustains us."

There's also an educational component — along with teaching the veterans about the hydroponics, Johnson said the business, which will be known as "Let's Grow," wanted to open up the process to the community, too.

The option would be on 11 acres in the Henry County Commerce Park for $2,000 down with the purchase price set at a total of $100,000, Judge-Executive John Logan Brent said. He called the effort "innovative" and

CHRIS BROOKE/LOCAL

Workers from the state highway department and Henry County unloaded tires from the backs of pickup trucks pretty quickly.

Tire collection keeps junk out of county

BY CHRIS BROOKE
editor@hcclocal.com

Citizens piled waste tires hundreds high at the state highway department barn on Port Royal Road Oct. 16.

About eight state highway department workers and five Henry County employees did most of the lifting for the participants who dropped off tires on the misty and overcast day, making quick work of tires brought in on pickup trucks and trailers.

The workers wanted to help participants get unloaded and get on their way, knowing they have already spent a lot of effort getting those tires loaded up, Jody Rucker, Henry County's planning and zoning official, said. "We try to make it so they don't have to get out and get dirty again."

By 10:30 a.m., a track hoe pushed together a pile that would fill two tractor-trailers from the free event that rotates to Henry County once every three years. The trucks took the tires to Liberty Tire in Louisville for processing.

"I like it," Gary Parks of Defoe, who brought in a load from his place and his aunt's, said of the tire collection. "They just don't have it often enough."

"You don't have to pay to get rid of them — that's the best thing about it. If they had it every two years instead of three and four, it would keep the county cleaned up."

The tire collection doesn't accept tires from retailers or from salvage yards or recyclers, Chris

CHRIS BROOKE/LOCAL

Gary Parks of Defoe loosens straps in order to unload tires from his truck at the Oct. 16 collection at the state highway barn on Port Royal Road. The tire collection continued through Saturday at noon, and the event likely pulled in thousands of waste tires.

Craig of the Division of Waste Management said. Concerns about contaminations from salvage yards left them out.

Kentucky funds the waste tire collection through the $1 fee per tire charged at retailers, Craig explained. Henry County set up the collection site and the contractor gathers the tires to haul away.

Some tires will go to a concrete plant in Louisville and get chucked into an incinerator to fire that process, said Rick Elder with Liberty Tire. "What they need so much heat for to make cement, I don't know."

Truck tires get ground up to about BB size, almost a powder for reuse. Elder said tractor tires get turned into material for use on playgrounds because there's no steel in them.

Passenger tires will see reuse as colored mulch.

The number of tire brought in that are still on rims has fallen because more people sell the scrap metal as the scrap value has risen over the years.

There's a market for these old tires, Elder confirmed.

A tractor-trailer load can carry as many as 2,000 tires, depending on how many tractor tires it includes. Elder also worked the last tire collection in 2011 and remembers loading up 15 tractor-trailers worth, or possibly about 30,000 tires, that time.

This saves the citizens a lot of money over taking the tires to a landfill, especially tractor tires, Rucker said.

The contractor will report the weight of the tires disposed of to give county officials an approximate idea of how many tires were collected.

"Sadly, what they used to do was roll them over the hill and we're finding them," Craig said.

Adult education to hold free workshops

Henry County Adult Education and Kentucky Career Center are holding a series of free workshops for adults at the Henry County Library.

• Computer Literacy: This Nov. 5 workshop is for adults that would like to begin their experience with a personal computer. Instructor Betty Rankin describes the class as being "like the recent popular ice bucket challenge, but a lot less messy. It is cool!" In this workshop you will have hands-on computer lessons. The program covers navigating around the screen, basic Office programs, using e-mail, applying for a job online, taking computer based tests, and more.

• Health Literacy: Adults caring for themselves and/or others can learn some basic skills in personal health care. "A doctor's visit can be stressful. This program can help you be prepared," Rankin said. It involves reading over-the-counter labels, journaling symptoms and things you might need to share with your healthcare professional. Date: Nov. 20.

For more information, call (502)686-0724, e-mail brankin0008@kctcs.edu or Kentucky Career Center, call 502-298-7271, email laura-beth.albright@kentucki-anaworks.org

Lyle attends clerks' college

Henry County Circuit Court Clerk Gina Lyle participated in the 2014 Circuit Court Clerks

Fall College that took place Sept. 23-25 at the Administrative Office of the Courts in Frankfort. The AOC provided the education program for the state's circuit court clerks.

The circuit court clerks attended courses on court record retention, the expungement process, bond procedures, sovereign citizens and apostille, which involves certifying the authenticity of foreign documents such as adoption papers. The college also included sessions on domestic violence and court technology. Offices of Circuit Court Clerk process petitions for emergency protective orders and domestic violence orders.

The circuit clerks also attended sessions on helping people who are choosing to represent themselves in court cases rather than using an attorney and civil legal aid for those who cannot afford an attorney. Circuit clerks cannot provide legal advice but can give information on court processes to ensure everyone has access to the courts.

Another session focused on the Circuit Court Clerk Conduct Commission that was established by Supreme Court order in January 2013 and the first ever Circuit Court Clerk Code of Conduct that the Supreme Court authorized earlier this year.

The college included 14 hours of continuing education credit for the circuit clerks.

Sorting out the facts about the Enterovirus 68

The news has recently been flooded with headlines about Enterovirus 68. This illness has sent scores of children to hospitals across the country. Enterovirus is a common group of more than viruses known to cause colds and respiratory infections around this time of year. However, a more rare strain known as Enterovirus 68 has been causing more serious infections. We will review some common questions about this infection.

Why is it called Enterovirus 68?
Enterovirus describes the virus group. The virus was assigned the number 68 is because viruses are numbered in the order in which they were discovered. Enterovirus 68 was first identified in California in 1962.

How does the virus spread?
Enterovirus 68 is

Katherine Jett
Baptist Medical Associates

spread through respiratory secretions. This means coughing, sneezing, or touching things or people infected with the virus. You should avoid contact with fluids from the nose or mouth (snot and spit) of anyone who is sick.

Why are kids affected more than adults?
Children and adults have both been affected by the virus. Children, especially those with breathing problems such as asthma, are more vulnerable when they catch respiratory illnesses. Individuals with respiratory issues tend to get sick quicker and take longer getting better than those with healthy lungs. These patients are also the ones most likely to end up in an emergency room or intensive care unit because of the virus.

How do I know if my child has Enterovirus 68?
You probably will not know if your child has Enterovirus or just another common viral illness unless he or she is sick enough to be in the hospital. Testing for this virus is not available in your doctor's office. Many hospitals can test for the virus and the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) can conduct more advanced testing and confirm an infection.

When should you call the doctor?
Call the doctor or go to the emergency room

if the patient has a high fever, symptoms that are worsening, trouble breathing, or is unable to drink enough fluid to stay hydrated. Signs of respiratory distress include breathing fast, continued wheezing, using neck or rib muscles to help breath, feeling short of breath, and flaring of the nostrils. One should worry about dehydration if there is decreased urine output, dry tongue or decreased tears when an infant or toddler cries.

How is the virus treated?
There is no specific medication available to treat the viral infection. Like most colds, the mainstay of treatment is supportive care. This includes treating fever or discomfort with Tylenol or Advil, ensuring hydration and providing oxygen if needed. If children have lots of mucus they may need suctioning to help remove excess secretions. Breathing treatments can help those with respiratory problems such as asthma.

How do we prevent spreading of the virus?
The most important thing to help prevent virus transmission is good hygiene.

- Wash hands with soap and water for at least 20 seconds
- Use alcohol based antibacterial hand gel
- Cough into your elbow rather than covering your mouth with your hand
- Disinfect surfaces that the sick person has come into contact with
- Avoid touching eyes, mouths and noses with dirty hands

If you are sick or have a fever, please stay home and feel better soon. Children may return to school once they are fever free (temperature less than 100.4) without any fever reducing medications for 24 hours. Most colds improve in a few days with rest and TLC.

If your loved one is worsening, having trouble breathing, or is becoming dehydrated call your doctor or go to the emergency department immediately for further evaluation.

Best wishes for a healthy fall!

Lots of options for diabetes prescriptions leads to many questions

If you or someone you love has diabetes, you know how important it is to manage it well. What happens if you don't? You're at risk for serious complications that can affect your heart, kidneys, eyes and nerves—to name a few.

Some people can manage diabetes with meal planning, weight loss and exercise alone. Others also need medication. Pills to lower blood sugar levels are one type of drug used to treat diabetes.

Can diabetes pills help

Jennifer Grove
Bluegrass Drug Company

you? Not if you have type 1 diabetes. Do you have type 2 diabetes? Then, you're more likely to benefit if you've had diabetes for less than 10 years and your body still makes insulin. That's the hormone that regulates sugar levels in your blood.

There is more than one type of diabetes pill, and the FDA has approved several new ones in the recent past. Sometimes combining more than one type is the best solution. Or, your doctor may prescribe pills plus insulin.

There are many classes of diabetes pills. They help you control your diabetes in different ways. These drugs may do one or more of these things:

- Stimulate the pancreas

to release more insulin

- Decrease the amount of sugar the liver produces
- Make muscle tissue more sensitive to insulin
- Help insulin work better
- Lower blood sugar, but only when it gets too high in your body
- Help the kidney get rid of extra sugar, which lowers levels in your blood
- Block the breakdown of starches such as pasta and potatoes, and slow the breakdown of certain sugars, which slows the rise of sugar levels after eating

- Both lower cholesterol and reduce blood sugar

Isn't it amazing how many different ways these drugs work? If one doesn't work well for you or if it stops working, another may be more successful. That's because doctors and scientists think that the cause of type 2 diabetes is not the same for all people with the disease.

If your doctor has prescribed one of these drugs, your pharmacist can provide you with more information. To help avoid interactions with other drugs, print a list of all your medications, both prescription and over the counter. Bring that list with you to the pharmacy.

Nothing herein constitutes medical advice, diagnosis or treatment, or is a substitute for professional advice. You should always seek the advice of your physician or other medical professional if you have questions or concerns about a medical condition.

Armstrong serves

I would like to encourage voters to re-elect LeeAnn Armstrong for Eminence City Council. For the past six years, LeeAnn Armstrong has served this community and its citizens admirably, effectively assisting in various projects throughout our community. She is a person of integrity whose values and devotion are to God, family, and community, first and foremost.

Mrs. Armstrong has a proven track record of her commitment including her service to the Eminence Booster Club for the past 12 years, six of which she served as president. She is a faithful advocate for our police force and fire and rescue squad as well as, diligently working to help maintain our park, school and the beautification of our city.

There is a delicate balance between economic growth and retaining the integrity of the community. Mrs. Armstrong understands this and has dedicated her efforts to maintain that balance. Having raised her children in this community, LeeAnn Armstrong understands the importance of maintaining that small town charm that makes Eminence the wonderful city that it is while still bringing opportunities to help boost the economy and to create more choices between businesses for the people.

LeeAnn Armstrong is leadership in action. She is always actively engaged, taking a hands-on approach to her role as city council member. She is easily accessible and always willing to jump in and help whenever and wherever possible. On any given day, she can be found working tirelessly on a project from her involvement in the city, park, school, Kentucky Agency for Substance Abuse Policy (KyASAP), Communities in Action (CIA), or Alcohol & Beverage Control (ABC). She is a true role model for her contributions to our community and for what public service is all about...integrity, honesty and dedication to the people.

During election season, signs dot the landscape of many candidates or those same candidates are out campaigning for their desired office. In November, I urge voters to cast their ballot for a candidate who works hard for the people all year long, not just during election season. There is no bigger responsibility than serving one's community. LeeAnn Armstrong understands that and continues to serve with honor and respect in the best interest of the citizens in this city. A vote for LeeAnn Armstrong is a vote for the people.

— Melissa Jo Gaines, Eminence

Democrats too liberal

In 1991, I was registered a Democrat. The Lord told me to get out of that party. I'd like to start with that I'm not Republican and I'm definitely not a liberal/progressive Democrat.

I want to speak to god-fearing men and women, who make decisions based on the ways of the true and only living God, who is Jesus Christ, also those who believe in our founding fathers, who wrote the constitution. They also believe in the only true God. It was God who put in their heart and it was not to be changed or twisted around.

Moderate and liberal and progressive Democrats and Republicans are dangerous to our country. In 1962, the liberal Supreme Court twisted and changed our First Amendment by putting in this separation of church and state, which is not in the Bill of Rights. They even twist that religion to stay out of government and schools.

In 1820, Congress wanted to know what religion was. They, the Founding Fathers, meant it to be religion was talking about denomination, (then called sect.) They didn't want a Catholic or Baptist, Methodist nation. It was only meant to be a Christian nation with Judeo-Christian values.

Those outside the faith of Christianity were excluded, but the 1962 Supreme Court brought the non-believer with Christianity, which was a slap in God's heart. Then the Supreme Court brought in evolution (which is false). Now what happened since the 1960s to 2014, we have kids and now adults who have been taught false trash that brainwash our kids' minds. Sound familiar? Like Soviet communist Russia, who took out the true and living God/Jesus Christ, which you can't teach any more, but you can teach false evolution.

One of the founding fathers who was a signer of the Declaration of Independence also was the founder of public education said, "You take God out of school and you will an explosion of violence in schools," which is also happening outside school. You see it is not guns and more law we need. It is a repented heart toward God, the true and living God who is Jesus Christ. I don't think Henry County and Eminence schools are doing this false teaching of evolution, which is a sin to God.

Then came abortion in 1972, which is plain murder. Abortion doctors and nurses are the number one terrorists in the world, along with Islamic and Muslim terrorists.

Now liberal and progressive federal judges and Obama and legislators pushing for homosexuality, which is an abomination to God.

I remember a former Senator Miller from Georgia said, "I didn't leave the Democratic Party, they left me."

Also Obama health care took money from Medicaid and Medicare. And climate change is fake to get more money and more regulation for EPA wackos, which kill jobs.

All these ungodly ways, belong liberal Democrats. So, I'm voting for Mitch McConnell.

Godly men and women get out of liberal/progressive Democratic Party and start a new party Democratic renewal.

Vote God's way. Vote Republican this time.

— Jay Holland, New Castle

Brent and Bryant work hard

This letter is written in support of John Logan Brent, our County Judge-Executive, and Peggy Bryant, our Deputy Judge-Executive.

Both of these lifetime Henry Countians have worked hard and diligently for this county during their tenure in office.

With John Logan's experience, integrity and qualifications, he will continue his strong commitment to Henry County. John Logan and Peggy are always available to discuss any of your concerns or problems.

Speaking from personal experience, as someone who worked in the Judge-Executive's office in the 1970s and 80s, there will always be tough decisions to be made while in office and there always will be some not in agreement. When you are in this position, you are responsible for the public's money. This is a huge responsibility and experience matters.

Also, people who are not residents of Henry County but are trying to influence the elections should not have a voice in what takes place here. They have no real interest in the future of Henry County.

Please come to the polls and vote on Nov. 4 to re-elect John Logan Brent as our Henry County Judge-Executive. Whether you be a Democrat or Republican, your vote is always important. Your vote for John Logan Brent is a vote for Henry County.

— Valerie Shuck Moffett, Smithfield

Opinion on growth

Growth is one of those things that always sound wonderful. Mr. Smith quoted the reality is not so great. Say's who?

Putting people to work is not so great? Adding housing for people is wrong? Do you really think that growth puts the dairy farmers out? Or maybe it could have been poor milk prices?

Let's talk taxes, how long can our county run on pennies and not raise taxes? It's just a matter of time. I am really not clear about smart growth. I am not so dumb to see it's more like no growth. How may people have been put to work with this smart growth plan?

What direction do young adults go when they can't afford to go to college to further their education? Where do they get a job? Not here. Where do they live? Not here!

Remember this, our county is just as important as any other. Our farming community is also very important too. But so is the right for people to have decent jobs.

No disrespect Mr. Smith, but I also lived in Oldham County, raised there. And I don't know one farmer that didn't sell out there, that did not profit and for the over crowding in the school district in Oldham County, if I remember correctly they were top in the state in education.

My hopes are that I'll see more young people make Henry County their home. Even if that means they have to live in a tract house?

— Moving forward, Ronnie L. Stephens, Sulphur

Annual meeting planned for Cattlemen's Association

The Henry County Cattlemen's Association meets next Monday evening, 6:30 p.m., at the Henry County Extension Office. At press time, the Extension Office is questionable concerning our ability to host the meeting, so if our construction/renovation is not complete, we might be heading out to the Henry County 4-H Center. We won't know this for sure until Friday or even Monday, so be prepared to report to the Extension Office and be directed to the 4-H Center at the Fairgrounds. That being said, we are planning to host in our now familiar surround-

Please call the Extension Office at 845-2811 to register.

TOBACCO GAP

Even as producers are preparing the 2014 tobacco crop for market, we will forward some news concerning the 2015 Tobacco GAP recertification. We have scheduled two different sessions on Friday, January 30th. The morning session will be held at the Shelby County Extension Office, beginning with registration at 9 a.m. The afternoon session will take place at the Henry County Extension Office, with registration at 1 p.m.

2014 was not the first year of the required annual Tobacco GAP certification, but it was the first year of the new GAP Connections Identification System, where all producers applied for an ID number and card. The 2015 Tobacco GAP Certification program will use the Grower ID number and will certify all growers in the annual production, labor, and environment components.

We realize this is a long way off, but we wanted to make sure growers knew about educational opportunities to maintain this required certification.

BEEF CHECKOFF NOVEMBER 20

The Henry County Extension Office will be the site for Henry County resident beef and dairy producers to vote in the upcoming Kentucky Beef Checkoff Referendum. On November 20 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. producers may vote yes or no on the referendum to collect an additional $1 per beef animal marketed. The funds will be utilized by the Kentucky Beef Promotion program to fund research and promotion for the beef product. The checkoff will be refundable on request.

If an eligible producer cannot visit the Henry County Extension Office in person on Nov. 20, an absentee ballot system will be made available. Contact the Henry County Extension Office at 845-2811 for details.

Mark your calendars for 21st annual Holiday Bazaar

It is still a few weeks away but the Henry County Homemaker Organization would like to invite you to attend our 21st Annual Holiday Bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 8 from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Henry County 4H/Fairgrounds Building. We will have over 30 booths that will be just chock full of arts, crafts, goodies, and gifts for those holiday shopping lists. The Historical Society will provide some breakfast goodies and the Country Ladies Homemaker Club will be serving lunch throughout the day.

There is something for every price range and if you can't find a gift from this listing of booths it probably doesn't exist. Currently those renting booths include: Debbi Hargrove (hand painted items), Christopher Burnette (customized farm toys), Charlie Sevier (plastic canvas and painted wood), Darrell and Pam Moore (stained glass, turned wood, scroll saw items), Angela Candee (decorative wreaths, garlands, and home décor), Edith Tennill (handmade crafts), Marcia Rieder (crocheted family items,

Henry County Extension Office

How creative are you when it comes to designing, recycling and saving money?

You can try your skills in all of these areas by participating in the piggy bank contest hosted by the University of Kentucky Agriculture, Food and Environment and its Managing in Tough Times Initiative. The contest is held each fall in anticipation of Kentucky Saves Week. The idea is to encourage individuals to start or increase their personal savings. The Kentucky Saves Week 2015 is February 23-28.

Any school-age student in Henry County can enter the Piggy Bank Design Contest by bringing their original design to the Henry County Cooperative Extension Service office by December 5. While the contest gives students the opportunity to think creatively, it also affords them the chance to think about ways to build wealth and reduce debt.

Each of the state's seven extension districts will choose two winning entries based on originality, creativity, artistic design and attractiveness. Winning designs will be displayed in the Capitol Rotunda in Frankfort during February. Winners will also receive a certificate. Last year Henry County's very own Gabe Adams was selected as one of the district winners.

Entry forms and more information on the contest rules can be found at The Kentucky Saves website at <http://www.kentuckysaves.org/>. If you have any further questions please call 845-2811.

Cross Country Cats run at Woodford County

Josh Logsdon-Ran season best time of 19:18 for 5K race at Woodford County Invitational.

BY GREG WOODS
sports@hclocal.com

The Henry County cross country team traveled to Versailles Saturday to compete in the Woodford County Invitational and had some of their best results of the season.

Josh Logsdon had a time of 19:18 to lead the Cats, while Brandon Handley also finished under twenty minutes with a time of 19:53.

"Josh had a season best this weekend," Wildcats coach Ricky Drawbaugh said. "He cut about 20 seconds off his time. Brandon was able to get under 20 minutes for the second time this season. Levi Shouse was just 20 second off his personal record. All the guys ran well."

Eighth-grader Janey Thompson led the girls with a time of 24:15 while Sydney Amyx finished close behind at 24:50.

"Katherine Buckler tried a new strategy to see if she could break 25 minutes," Drawbaugh said, "She went out very hard from the beginning and led the race for the first quarter-mile. She faded, but was glad to see that she will not be able to do that in the region. Sydney and Janey took off conservatively and were able to pass people at the end of the race."

Drawbaugh said that the team would take next week off in preparation for the Regional meet at Collins High School Nov. 1.

"We are going to have a hard week of practice this week and try to improve our speed for region," he said.

Tennyson speaks to EMS Football

SUBMITTED

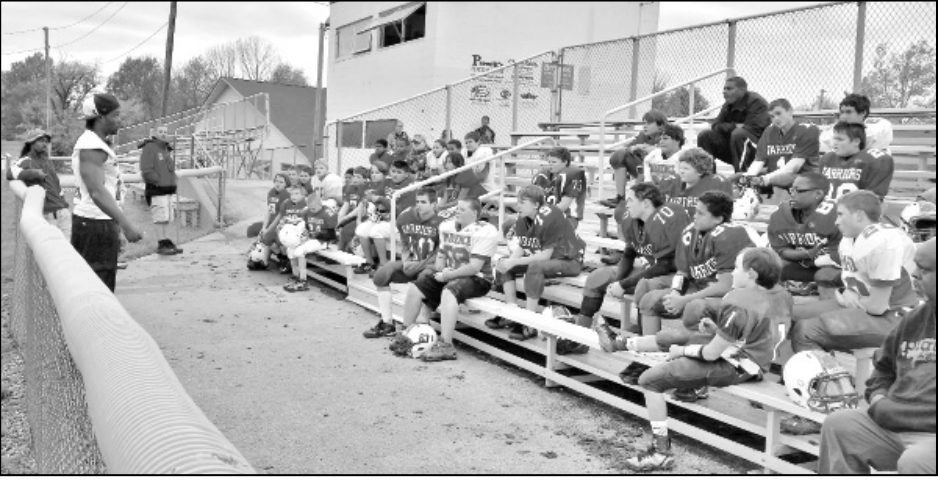

Kentucky Storm linebacker Jordan Tennyson shared his life story with the Eminence Middle School football team Thursday afternoon before the team practice.

Tennyson talked about how important it was to live by faith, not by sight. He stressed that each of us individually are responsible for our success and that others can only take us so far. He talked to the kids about not blaming others and making excuses for not succeeding at their goals. He stressed to the kids how important it was to make this right choice at their age.

Tennyson played for two years at the University of Kentucky after graduating from Louisville Central High School. He then played two years for the University of Louisville

He was named the Defensive Player of the Year the last two years in the Kentucky Football League while playing for the Storm, a Henry County based semi-pro football team. He is currently receiving interest from the Philadelphia Eagles.

thought they all did just that.

"I am really proud of them as a whole, and thought each of them played really well together as a team," Ruff continued. "There are still things we need to work on for districts but I am pleased with the win overall."

Ruff finished her post-game comments with a tribute to the seniors.

"I would like to say congratulations to our five seniors and let them know what a great time I have had coaching them and getting to know them over the last five years," she said. "Kelsey, Molly, Megan, Vic and Paige, thank you for your leadership. You will be missed."

Franklin Co. 2 HCHS

The Franklin County Lady Flyers came to New Castle Oct. 14 and left with a 25-16, 25-10 win.

Ruff was not pleased with the team's mental preparation for the match.

"When the first game started, we did not seem ready to play," Ruff said. "In both games we made several mistakes that we could not recover from. I thought that Teagan had some really great hits and blocks, but it wasn't enough to get us back in the game."

"We missed several serves and if you want to win at the varsity level, you have to get your serves over every time," Ruff continued. "The girls just kept getting in a bigger hole and could not recover from the points that they gave away to Franklin. I thought that we gave up. I don't think we ever played to win against Franklin County."

Seneca 2 HCHS 1

The Lady Cats hosted Seneca Oct. 13 and fell 25-18, 18-25, 25-18.

"We played really well for about the first five points of the first game," Ruff said. "Then we would have a swing here or there and come back. At the end of the first game Seneca was up and we were not able to recover. I thought we remained very positive and kept our heads up after playing really hard for most of the game."

Ruff said the team played exceptionally well in the second game.

"We never let anything drop and we were hustling everywhere," she said. "We had some really great hits and digs."

But the Cats could not keep that momentum going according to Ruff.

"We were never really able to get a good lead and I think when we get down by five or six points it is really difficult for us to overcome that and the girls get their heads down," Ruff said. "This is something we have to work on, because I have seen them come back from bigger deficits. Overall, I thought we made some really good plays and we were really working hard as a team. Bailee Massey played the tip line for us and got some great digs and hustled all over the court."

stopped by the Owen keeper but he could not hold on to the ball and Jameson was there to score from close range.

D. J. Aneszko got the second goal, which was also on a follow shot. Jameson made a long throw in from deep in Rebel territory. Buckley was on the receiving end of the pass but the keeper was able to block his shot. It rolled into the path of an onrushing Aneszko, who scored from close range. With 30 minutes left in the first half the Cats had a 2-0 lead.

The Wildcats continued to go forward at will and showed some of their best passing and teamwork of the year. The Cats had four more serious scoring opportunities over the next 18 minutes. Winger Trevor Sanders had a shot saved just 40 seconds after the second goal. Aneszko had another opportunity go just wide after a nice move by the team at the 24-minute mark. Jameson had two shots saved at 14:30 and 13:30.

Buckley finally got the third goal for the Cats in unusual fashion. He took a corner kick with 12:30 left but seemed to kick it too close to the goal where a defender and the keeper were closest to the ball. However, the two Rebels appeared to get in each other's way and the ball went in off the keeper's hands to make it 3-0.

The Cats led at halftime

3-0 but were not finished with interesting goals.

Buckley took a 50-yard free kick less than five minutes into the second half when Jameson was fouled near midfield. Buckley's long free kick sailed over the line of Wildcats and Rebels waiting for the ball and landed just in front of the Rebel goalie. The ball slid rather than bounced due to the wet conditions and went between the keeper's legs for the Cats' fourth goal of the game.

Buckley got his hat trick with 15:59 to go after Noah Mancuso was brought down in the box. Buckley left no doubt on the penalty kick as he hit it high and hard into the net, leaving the Owen keeper no chance.

Henry County's last goal came on a nice shot by Devin Trautwein who was able to play forward late in the game with a big lead for the Cats. Trautwein hit his shot from about 20-yards out on the right wing and bent it into the top right corner to set the final margin at six goals.

Coach Bobby Jameson was glad to see his team take lessons from the practice field and apply them in the game.

"We had gotten to the point of relying on Gavin so much that in practice we worked on possessing the ball more and testing the defense's patience," Jameson said. "We were looking for them to over-play the ball on defense and take advantage of it and we did that pretty well. Our forwards did a good job of passing the ball to the wings and getting others involved."

Jameson said the field conditions dictated the Cats' play to some extent.

"We knew the middle of the field would be a mess because of the rain so we worked the ball down the wings as much as possible," he said. "It was our best game that we won this year. It proved what we were capable of and should've played like all year."

Carroll Co 3 HCHS 1

The Wildcats traveled back to Warsaw for the championship game of the 31st district tournament Thursday night to face a Panther team that came into the game as the favorite.

The Cats gave the Panthers all they wanted and went into halftime tied 1-1.

Carroll County got the opening goal with 34:15 left when Alex Burns followed up a shot from a teammate that Coleton Aneszko did a great job of stopping. However, the ball rolled to Burns, and Aneszko couldn't recover fast enough from the first save to stop his shot.

Burns would be a thorn in the Cats' side all night. After the Carroll goal, the game settled into an evenly played, fast-paced game that saw both teams have opportunities to score.

Henry County tied the score with 19:20 left when Buckley hit a free kick from 35 yards out on the left wing that rocketed off the goalkeeper's hands and into the back of the net. The power of the shot from such long range must have caught the keeper off guard.

The Wildcats were lifted by the goal and began to attack more as the half drew to a close but they could not find another goal.

Carroll County had most of the possession to open the second half but could create no real chances as Henry County kept their defense deep to prevent breakaway opportunities by the Panthers.

Henry County had a good opportunity at the 30:54 mark when substitute Airon Hardy took a shot that the Panther keeper had to make a save on.

But less than a minute later Burns made a spectacular play to get the Panther's second goal and take momentum away from the Cats. Burns received the ball near the top of the 18-yard box and dribbled back and forth with three Cats defenders chasing him. He managed to work his way free with excellent dribbling skills and quick feet to get a point blank shot past Aneszko. The goal made it 2-1 with 30 minutes to go in the game.

The Panthers had the upper hand after that but Aneszko made two great saves to keep the Cats within striking distance.

With 14:00 minutes to go it appeared that Jameson was tripped in the penalty box by two Carroll defenders but no call was made and the Cats' chance for an equalizer went by the boards.

About a minute later

Sanders had a nice free kick from just outside the penalty box saved by the diving Panther keeper.

With about nine minutes to go Burns put the game away with another very nice goal. He took a pass out of the air with his right foot and quickly spun past the Cats' defender who was marking him and got in a one-on-one situation with Aneszko. As Aneszko rushed out to cut the angle down, Burns sent a rocket into the right side of the net.

The goal made it 3-1 and ended the Cats' hopes of a district championship.

"I couldn't expect anything more out of the kids," Jameson said. "I could see in their eyes that they had given everything they had. They played more like a family than a team. They protected each other. If one got into trouble the others stepped up."

Jameson felt the score belied his team's performance.

"I believe we outplayed Carroll," he said. "The score does not reflect how well we played. I felt that we played harder in this game than we ever did. I believe they will carry this forward and be better for it."

hard and look for a chance to even the score.

One minute later Rachel Vegh was just wide on a shot from a tight angle on the left side at close range.

With 13:00 minutes to go in the half, Gallatin scored on a goal that was similar to the first. A missed clearance pass by the Lady Cats gave Gallatin County a chance to counter and Gallatin County's offensive midfielder picked up the loose ball, dribbled toward the goal and let fly with a sizzling shot as Hughes moved out to challenge her. The shot, from 15 yards on the left wing, flew past Hughes into the right side of the net to give Gallatin a 2-0 lead.

Henry County picked up their play in the final minutes of the half but could not get a goal and the teams left the field for halftime with the home team holding a comfortable two-goal margin.

The second half started with Hughes having to make a fairly easy save with 33 minutes left.

Four minutes later Gallatin had a golden opportunity to put the game away when they had a breakaway down the right wing. The ball was crossed right in front of the goal but the Gallatin attackers were unable to put the ball in the net from very close range.

Gallatin had another chance at 27:30 but whiffed on the ball just in front of goal to keep Henry's chances alive.

The Lady Cats continued to attack and Gallatin County continued to counter-attack. The home team got a breakaway opportunity with 21:10 left and Hughes made an excellent save but time was running out and the Cats needed to score quickly to give themselves a chance.

Micah Hardin had a shot saved with 18:28 to play and the Gallatin keeper made a couple of nice grabs on corner kicks to keep the visitors at bay.

Gallatin County missed on one last counter-attack with less than two minutes to go but they didn't need another goal as time ran out on Henry County and left them one game short of their goal of winning a second consecutive title.

"We've talked all year about not taking plays off," Coach Shelby Pfeiffer said. "That's what killed us in the first half because we didn't play our game except for the last six minutes of the first half. We weren't all totally on board."

Pfeiffer mentioned Gallatin's play as a factor in the first half.

"Gallatin played very aggressive in the air and won a lot of the 50-50 balls," Pfeiffer said. "Izzy Miller and Micah Lineman played well in the air and on 50-50 balls but that was about it. We wanted to let the ball bounce when we needed to play it in the air. On a positive note, we played much better in the second half and possessed the ball better."

HCHS 3 Carroll Co. 0

In the first round the Lady Cats had the majority of the possession and got a hat trick from Vegh to move on to the championship game.

Vegh got her first goal from 12-yards out in front of goal with 34:30 left in the half. A defender stuck her foot out while trying to stop the shot and redirected it away from the keeper who had no chance to recover and stop the shot.

Vegh had four more shots in the next 21 minutes before she finally struck again with 13:48. She took a free kick from 40-yards out that took an awkward bounce in front of the keeper and went between her legs to make it 2-0.

The Lady Cats continued to pressure the Lady Panthers and Hardin got free for a shot that was saved. The Lady Panther keeper stayed busy and had to save two more shots, one by Miller and one by Vegh, before time ran out in the first half.

Henry County wasted no time applying pressure on the keeper to start the second half. Teresa DeWeese had a shot saved just 22 seconds in and Hardin had a shot go over the bar one minute later.

DeWeese had another shot stopped at 36:26. She and Vegh continued to take shots for the next several minutes before Carroll was able to stem the tide and gain some possession.

At 29:44 Hughes was called into action and was up to the task when she stopped what was one of only two scoring chances that the Lady Panthers had in the second half. The other was on a breakaway with 17:30 but the shot from 15 yards out went just wide.

Vegh sealed the victory with a goal from ten yards out off a nice assist from Hardin who got free down the wing, dribbled to the end line and made a perfect pass to Vegh waiting in front of goal.

"We have been working on that in practice," Pfeiffer said "We have been trying to get it deep and then cut it back. It was an awesome play by Micah and a good finish by Rachel."

Pfeiffer was pleased with the play of her other forward, DeWeese.

"Teresa played awesome," Pfeiffer said. "She really hustled and tried to create things. Izzy played well and as usual was all over the place."

Pfeiffer closed with words that would seem prophetic considering what happened in the championship game. "We dominated possession and had a lot of good combination play, but we took about 15 minutes off in the first half and we can't do that. Our games will get tougher from here on out and we can't take plays or time off in the game. We have to play hard every minute of the game."

39-yard line.

But Coach Spencer rolled the dice again, trusting his big line to move the pile and they came through as quarterback Spencer picked up three yards.

The Wildcats were then hit with a couple of penalties that gave them a third and long situation. Devin Hagan was able to pick up eight yards but it was not enough to put the Cats in a position to try another fourth down surge.

Central took over on their own 35-yard line after the Henry County punt and quickly changed the tenor of the game with a 20-yard pick up. A couple of plays later the Yellowjackets scored on a 40-yard run to make it 7-0 with 4:10 left in the third period.

Henry County's next drive stalled out after Fish picked up a first down on another fourth and short situation and Central took over at their own 30-yard line.

The Yellowjackets struggled to gain yards on the drive and on third and two, Fish came up with a tackle for a three-yard loss to force Central to punt. The Cats took over on their own 22-yard line and faced fourth and five on the 27-yard line. They lined up to punt the ball but snapped to Fish, who was stopped just a yard short of the first down marker.

Central caught a break after taking over with good field position. The Yellowjacket running back was hit after gaining four yards and fumbled the ball forward where a teammate fell on the ball for an eight-yard gain. On second and two Central broke free for a 23-yard touchdown run. The extra point made it 14-0 with 8:07 to play.

"We had a few missed tackles on that one," Spencer said. "But we didn't put the defense in the best of spots."

Henry County started their next drive on the 20-yard line and got a four-yard run from Andrew Mahoney. On second down, Hagan broke free for a long gain but was hit near the sideline and fumbled. Central recovered on the Henry County 32-yard line.

From there the Yellowjackets had two long gains to move the ball to the 11-yard line.

The Yellowjackets ran it in from there to make it 20-0. The extra point attempt was blocked but the Wildcats trailed by three touchdowns with 3:43 to go.

The Yellowjackets' defense held on the Cats' final two offensive series to help the team improve to 2-0 in district play and 5-3 overall.

Henry County fell to 6-2 on the season and 1-1 in district play.

They will face Elizabethtown on the road this week with number two seed on the line for the playoffs.

"The kids played extremely hard," Spencer said. "They played their guts out. It just wasn't meant to be on this night. If we do what we need to do, we will see Central down the line in the playoffs. Our goals are still the same. We want to make it to Bowling Green."

"The great thing about this team is their character," Spencer continued. "They'll come in Monday ready to work and get ready for Elizabethtown."

from the fight, we are waiting on the KHSAA to make a ruling," he said. "As it stands, it will be difficult for us to compete at Frankfort or any playoff game after that."

The game started with Paris scoring on a 20-yard run with 7:16 to play. The extra point kick made it 7-0.

The Warriors had a good drive on their next possession as DeMarcus Bailey made a nice catch on a pass by Trevor Payton. But the Warriors' drive stalled out deep in Paris territory and the Greyhounds got the ball back.

On the ensuing possession Paris scored on a 67-yard run with 57 seconds left in the first quarter to make it 14-0. Paris added a touchdown late in the second half before the melee broke out to make it

With the Warriors shorthanded, the Greyhounds scored three quick touchdowns in the third period to put the game away and start the running clock on the mercy rule.

"We moved the ball well at times," McDowell said. "We were having some success offensively early in the game but couldn't find the end zone. We had some mistakes in the red zone on assignments that caused our drives to stall out."

"Defensively, we had missed tackles that hurt us," he said. "And they got outside on us and broke containment and we couldn't catch them with their great speed."

The Henry County Lady Cats' soccer team fell a little short of defending their district title after the host Gallatin County Lady Wildcats scored two first half goals and then held on in the second half for their first district championship.

Gallatin County started the game strong and had several chances early but Lady Cat goalkeeper Sophie Hughes made two saves in the first eight minutes to keep the teams even.

Henry County grew into the game and got more possession in the next ten minutes but had few scoring opportunities except for a couple of speculative shots that were easily saved by the Lady Wildcat keeper.

At 20:18 lightning struck for the home team when a Henry defender's clearance bounced off a Gallatin player and fell perfectly into the path of their striker who took the ball in stride and scored on a 15-yard shot from just left of the goal.

It was a tough break for the Lady Cats but they continued to play

Wildcats feel sting of the Yellowjackets

BY GREG WOODS
sports@hclocal.com

The Henry County Wildcats hosted the Central Yellowjackets Friday in a big district showdown that saw the perennial football powers from Louisville pull away in the second half for a 20-0 win.

The first half was a defensive battle with neither team putting points on the board. Central had two good opportunities but the Wildcat defense was able to make big plays to stop both threats.

One chance came with 6:20 left in the first period when a Central running back broke free for a long gain but was chased down from behind and fumbled. Mason Fish fell on the loose ball to get the Cats out of trouble.

Another scoring chance came when Central recovered a fumbled punt on the Henry County 35-yard line. But the Cats' defense held and Central came away with no points.

Henry County suffered a blow late in the first half. They were deep in their own territory with under a minute to play when Coach Jason Spencer decided to go for it on fourth and one. The Cats' offensive line surged forward as quarterback Trevyn Spencer ran a sneak up the middle and the Cats got the first down to keep their hopes of a first half score alive. A couple of plays later, Austin Hartsell went for seven yards but fullback Bodie Clark who was lead-blocking for him went down with an apparent leg injury.

The EMS crew was asked to bring out their stretcher and the Cats looked visibly shaken.

Clark shouted encouragement to his teammates as he was carted off the field loud enough that it brought a roaring cheer from the home crowd.

"The boys genuinely love each other," Coach Jason Spencer said. "And Bodie is one of the most loved kids on the team. He's the diesel that drives the train. He is not only important on offense, but one of our best defensive players."

The Cats fumbled on their next play but recovered it and let the clock run out on the first half with the score still tied 0-0.

As the Cats left the field for halftime, they did not look like a team locked in an even battle with a district rival.

"At halftime we were happy with where we were," Spencer said. "Central High School is a quality opponent and we went into halftime tied. But the boys were shook up about Bodie."

Henry County took the second half kickoff deep in their own territory and began to move up field.

After getting a first down the Cats looked like they might not be able to sustain the drive when they faced a fourth and one from their own

Warriors fall to Paris, 41-0

Game marred by
fightBY GREG WOODS
sports@hclocal.com

The Paris Greyhounds

traveled to Eminence Friday night and came away with a 41-0 win in a game that saw a fight break out between the two teams.

The fight occurred just before halftime after the Greyhounds had kicked off to the Warriors. The Greyhounds had just scored their third touchdown of the night and a scuffle occurred between an Eminence player and a Greyhound that he was blocking on the play near the Paris bench. The Paris team left their bench area as other Warriors came to the defense of their teammate.

As the referees and coaches restored order more shouting and shoving broke out, prompting officials to throw several athletes out of the game.

"Several of our key players were ejected from the game at that point," coach Paul McDowell said. "That made our job even more difficult in the second half."

McDowell believes only two Paris players were ejected.

Lady Cats finish with a win

BY GREG WOODS
sports@hclocal.com

The Henry County Lady Cats' volleyball team closed out the regular season Thursday night by honoring their five seniors, Kelsey McGuire, Molly Williamson, Paige DeBurger, Megan Payton and Victoria Marcum.

After gifts were handed out before the game, the team gave themselves the best senior night gift that they could get – a win over Waggener.

Henry County started the match with a win in game one by a score of 26-24. Waggener came back to take game two, 25-21. But the Lady Cats would not be denied in their final regular season home match and came back to win game three, 25-23.

"I thought we played really well against Waggener but still had some lapses in focus," said Lady Cat coach Katie Ruff. "We were moving the ball around and doing smart things."

Ruff thought the special night brought out the best in her team.

"Since it was senior night, I know how much the girls really wanted a win and they showed that in the first and third games," Ruff said. "The games were close and could have gone either way, but I think what helped us win was desire. I could see it in their faces in a time out. The best part was all 12 of them wanted to win. I have been telling them all season that you can't just want to win, you have to do things right and play hard to win, and I

Henry County Judge-Executive

John Logan Brent

General Background

Education: Graduate of Henry County High School and the University of Kentucky

Relevant Experience/Community Involvement: Prior to serving as Judge-Executive I worked as a registered lobbyist in Frankfort on Ag issues. Before that I worked for a financial institution overseeing a multi-million dollar hedge fund. I got involved in the community shortly after returning from college by joining the Chamber of Commerce and participating in the first Henry County Leadership Program. In 2000, I helped start the Harvest Showcase and have been the lead organizer of that event all 15 years. Other boards that I serve on include County Extension, Tri-County Community Action, and the local Board of Health. I am the current Chair of the six county economic development partnership called Kentucky Connected.

Campaign Website: www.brentforjudgeexecutive.com

Campaign Phone Number: (502) 750-0527

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

The short answer is experience and results. Time at UK developed my writing and research skills. Working for a financial company prepared me for the responsibility of managing your tax dollars.

My time in Frankfort allowed me to make contacts and learn about the appropriations process. Twelve years on the job has taught me more than I could put in a book about solving problems, obtaining resources, and working within a budget.

The above experiences have produced results. Over $35 million has been secured and turned into projects that include: the Commerce Park, Seniors Center, Health Department, Hwy 146, Campbellsburg Sewer Upgrade, Eminence Treatment Plant Upgrade, Park Walking Trail, Ag Arena, Animal Shelter, and miles of road improvements. We also have the Renn Faire, Cedar Lake, and a USDA custom slaughter facility because of my involvement and contacts.

The county has made great strides in the services we offer. Noted improvements include: 24/7 EMS & Paramedics, our own animal shelter, and a much improved park system.

I am the only candidate in the race with the contacts and the experience to obtain the outside dollars to build the county's infrastructure.

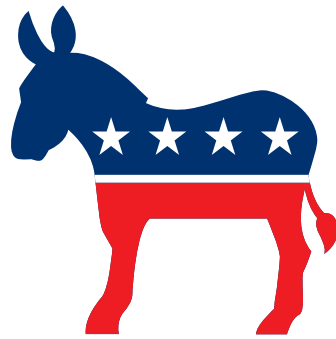

Additionally, I am the only candidate with experience managing a $6,000,000 budget and a proven record of keeping the county in the black.

What is the top issue in your race?

I believe November 4th is a job interview, not a political contest. The County Judge is the chief administrator and is responsible for a pie with many slices.

Daily responsibilities include over 200 miles of roads, an EMS service that makes 2,000 runs a year, two parks, a fairgrounds, an animal shelter, 911, Planning & Zoning, Solid Waste, Courthouse Maintenance, and overseeing the employees who make these services possible.

Each day the Judge/Exec works through whatever problems might arise, while being conscious of a six million dollar/160 line item budget.

Over the last 12 years major advances have been made in county services and the county's infrastructure. These improvements have benefited our residents and have laid the ground work for economic development.

If re-elected, I will focus on four specific goals. First, I will update the old Harry Hill Park. Second, I will find our volunteer fire departments money for needed equipment. Third, I will focus on bringing good businesses to the County Commerce Park and other ready commercial/industrial sites.

Lastly, I will closely manage the county's finances so that we stay in the black and don't raise taxes, because no business wants to move to a county that can't take care of its own business.

Ricky Doyle

General Background

Education: Henry County High School

Relevant Experience/Community Involvement: I have created, owned, and operated several businesses, such as Clean Sweep, which I sold before starting Doyle Excavating. I grew up and worked on the family farm, was Director of Operations for M&D Custom Farm Service, and worked as a Kentucky State Reformatory Corrections Officer. I am in my second term as a board member for the Henry County Health Department (2011 - Present)

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

I am the pro growth candidate. It is my priority to get the infrastructure of Henry County updated to the standards where we can invite industry and businesses to move to Henry County. This will create jobs, increase the tax base, and general growth in Henry County.

What is the top issue in your race?

Economic Development is the cornerstone of every community. Without it, communities flounder; progression is slow and essentials services lag because of inadequate funding. For the past several months, as I have travelled throughout Henry County, the theme is the same, we need "good paying jobs."

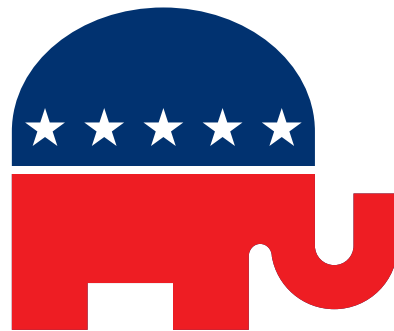

As your next County

Judge-Executive, we will work together as ONE community to move Henry County forward and create an economically friendly environment that allows our county to attract good paying jobs. I will work diligently with the citizens of Henry County to achieve this goal. If elected, I will bring my diligent work ethic, and a strong commitment to the office of Judge-Executive.

I will work hard to: Develop infrastructure in Pendleton and Pleasureville. Improve existing infrastructure in Campbellsburg and Eminence. Entice new industry to industrial parks. Recruit both small and large businesses to the county. Establish an active

Economic Development Board. Create jobs for the citizens of Henry County. Procure grants for which our county qualifies. Upgrade and improve Planning & Zoning. I will maintain an open-door policy, and bring transparency to the office of Judge-Executive

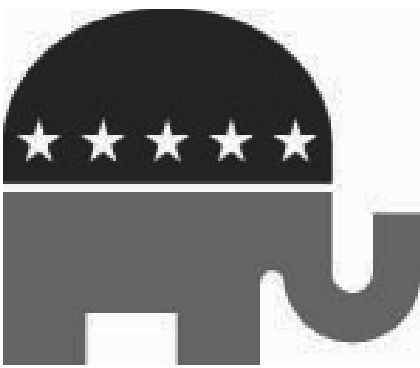

I appreciate your vote November 4th.

Henry County Sheriff

Danny Cravens

General Background

Education: 1987 graduated from the Kentucky Department of Criminal Justice Police Academy. 20 hours of undergraduate work at Kentucky State University, University of Louisville and Eastern Kentucky University.

Relevant experience/community involvement: I became involved with the New Castle Volunteer Fire Department as a child. When I became old enough I joined as a full active volunteer firefighter, where I received many certified training hours. I served for a few years until work took me out of the county and unable to devote time to this service. In 1981, I began on the path of law enforcement – when I was hired and received training as a corrections officer. Served in that capacity until 1985, when I returned to my county and was hired by the Eminence Police Department as a police officer. In 1987, I attended the Department of Criminal Justice Training Police Academy, where I graduated as a state certified police officer and received additional training throughout my tenure with that agency. In 1993, I left the Eminence Police Department and went to work as a police officer for the New Castle Police Department and rejoined the New Castle Volunteer Fire Department, while I was employed there I was promoted to the position as Police Chief. I continued to receive training in law enforcement and fire fighting services. In 2000, I left the New Castle Police Department and took a position as deputy in the Henry County Sheriff’s Office. In 2006, I campaigned and was elected to the office of Sheriff. In 2007, I began serving as Henry County Sheriff and ran unopposed in 2010 and served a second term to present.

Campaign Website/Facebook: <http://www.sheriffcravens.com>
Phone Number: (502) 269-0093

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?
I believe my character and personality play a big part in my success as a dedicated law enforcement officer. Adding training and 30 plus years of experience, serving as a uniformed representative for the local communities and this county has instilled integrity upon me and gained the trust of the citizens. Being loyal and dedicated has given me the ability to communicate with the public which is a necessary trait to serving the community along with the understanding that law enforcement must evolve along with the community to meet the needs of the people. As Sheriff I have been able to make the necessary changes and improvements that I believe that are essential in providing a safer environment for the people of Henry County, while not overspending Sheriff’s office revenue, kept budgets in the black and turned over to fiscal court unused revenue every year, totaling over $180,000. I have the leadership skills and the determination to push the envelope for advancing the services to the community. Progress must continue with positive growth in order to develop a professional and productive Sheriff’s Office.

What is the top issue in your race?
There are many issues at hand that more than top not only my race but as Sheriff, It affects many lives in many ways — that is substance abuse. Alcohol abuse causes health, financial and domestic issues to name a few. Not to mention juvenile alcohol abuse issues, then you have drug abuse that causes many more issues. I believe that with all the experiences I have been exposed to in law enforcement, drugs have destroyed more lives than anything I can think of, it is linked to most of the crime all over and in our county. Examples are: thefts, robberies, violence, self destructive behavior, health issues, the impact to family members, impact to the communities at large, and the cost to everyone by way of enforcement and prevention. As Sheriff I will continue to provide as much enforcement in this area as possible.

Danny Stivers

General Background

Education: 1973 graduate Henry County High, 1975 graduate Lindsey Wilson Jr. College certified fire investigator through National Association of Fire Investigation, graduate #236 Department of Criminal Justice Training.

Relevant experience/community involvement: Retired from Kentucky State Police as arson investigator, chief deputy over five years Henry County Sheriff’s Office.

Campaign phone number: (502) 845-1771

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?
You ask why are you the best selection for the position you seek. My opponent has advertised himself as the most experienced and qualified Sheriff in the History of the Henry County Sheriff’s Office. With my work ethic, I will be a working Sheriff as I was a working Chief Deputies at the Henry County Sheriff’s Office. While Chief Deputy at HCSO, there were 520 incident reports filed from 2009 through 2013. As a working Chief Deputy I filed 315 of the 520 reports and Sheriff Cravens filed three of the 520 reports. When elected Henry County Sheriff, I will return to the Sheriff’s office and work hard for the people of Henry County as I did as Chief Deputy. As Sheriff, I will see that the priorities of the citizens of Henry County become the priorities of the sheriff office.

What is the top issue in your race?
You ask what is the top issue in your race. I will let the citizens of Henry County answer this question, for the past several weeks while campaigning and talking to the citizens of our county they have told me what their top issues are with the Sheriff’s office. I have been told over and over again by the folks in our county that they have lived in their area of the county, sometimes for months and sometimes for years and very rarely do they ever see a marked Henry County Sheriff’s Office vehicle in their area. People have told me the officer does not have to stop and talk to them they just want to see a marked vehicle in their area. They want to see that vehicle in their subdivisions and on their county roads. I have also been told by our citizens when they call the Henry County Sheriff’s Office, regardless of the reason why they call, they want someone to respond to their homes or call them as soon as possible. They want to know when they hang up the phone with the sheriff’s office when someone is going to be there and take care of their complaint whatever it might be. They do not want to be waiting for an officer to show up three hours after the fact. So if these are the top issues for the citizens of Henry County these issues are the top issues of this race for me.

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

I have been a Respiratory Care Practitioner for the past 46 years. During that time, I have encountered every aspect of health-care delivery in hospitals, nursing homes, home care, hospice and post-mortem (forensic) procedures. Couple with my clinical experience, I have held administrative and management positions that include hospital administrator, corporate founder/director and consultant.

This business experience will be a great aid in performing the fiscal and administrative duties of the Coroner's office. There are also the unseen assets necessary for the Coroner's positions: compassion and commitment.

These assets are extremely necessary when dealing with family and loved ones.

What is the top issue in your race?

I do not believe that there is an issue in the county coroner's race. However, I do believe that there is a necessary goal to achieve. That goal should be to elect the candidate that will win based on qualifications and not political preference.

Unlike the other county races the decision to elect a county coroner should not be based on Republican, Democrat or Independent philosophies, but rather on candidate qualifications.

During this campaign I have consistently made two commitments regarding my election: (1) the coroner's office will be staffed ONLY by licensed healthcare professionals and (2) the office will be an educational focal point, by making available timely healthcare topics to schools and organizations.

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

As a successful auctioneer and owner of a small business I hold to strong ethical principals. It has been my goal to see that both parties (buyer and seller) have been treated fairly and are satisfied. I feel this is necessary as a magistrate. I will listen to all involved and make my decision based on the information presented to me. I will not be a yes man or rubber stamp.

As a former farmer and current business man, I see the need for the co-existence for the agricultural community and economic development. Our county is unique and I do not strive to change it only to improve on what we have already achieved.

My wife and I are parents of two young adults and we have recently become grandparents. Their future is very important to us. It has become even more important that our home (Henry County) be a safe, prosperous and affordable place to live. I think with these goals, I can be a magistrate that can benefit all of District 2.

What is the top issue in your race?

Opportunities for our children; More growth in the county while maintaining our friendly atmosphere; Attract new business with fair wages while assuring survival of existing business; Work with all members of the Henry Fiscal Court; For a balanced budget and smart effective use of your tax dollars

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

I couldn't guarantee you that I am the best selection for the office. What I can guarantee you is that if I am afforded the opportunity to continue serving our county as a Magistrate, you will get the very best that I have in me. I make mistakes each and every day both as a person and a magistrate but I have a heart for Henry County and I am committed to being a community leader that you can trust. After running for public office a few times you begin to be referred to as a politician but I consider myself to be a public servant. I can tell you that I am the same person that I was before I ever ran for office. I am a Christian, a husband, a father, and a proud American who believes in serving our community and working hard to make a positive difference in people's lives. I believe that what separates me from the other candidate in this race, is that I have a proven record of serving our community and making a difference; both as a volunteer in numerous organizations throughout Henry County and as a leader on Fiscal Court over the last eight years.

What is the top issue in your race?

As a magistrate you have a responsibility to oversee every aspect of county government; Budgetary Issues, Tax Rates, Roads, Parks, Planning and Zoning, Solid Waste, Animal Services, EMS, Police Protection, & funding for our Fire Departments. Every one of these is important. It can be said that the most important duty of any government is to protect its citizens. I believe that my duty as a magistrate is to ensure many things; that your tax dollars are properly budgeted and used responsibly, that our tax rate stays as low as possible, that we have safe roads to drive on, that our children access to a decent parks system, that our county grows in a manner that makes Henry County a better place, that we have a clean community, that the animal population is controlled with compassion, that you have a licensed professional to show up as fast as possible when you have a healthcare emergency, that we have proper police protection, & that our fire departments have access to the equipment that they need to protect us. The top issue in this race is ensuring that we have a magistrate that can work towards accomplishing all of these things with honesty and integrity.

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

I'm not the most experienced, and arguably, not even the most qualified; but there is not another candidate seeking office in Henry County that will bring a greater passion and intensity of seeing our county move forward than I have.

Incumbency comes with it's political advantages, but it also comes with the stark reality of owning the present. If the community is thriving, the incumbent takes the credit, but when our county is suffering from a lack of progress and always taking a back seat to neighboring counties in job creation, economic development and sustainability, that falls squarely on the shoulders of those in office.

As magistrate, I'll bring to fiscal court progressive ideas and a fresh prospective. Business growth equals tax base growth which means less of a burden on the citizen tax payer. Our Fire Departments, EMS, and the Sheriff's office, along with our two school systems, are facing a need for more revenue to compete with the ever growing cost of operating. A lack of growth is increasing the burden on the tax payer. As magistrate, I'll work hard to see that investments are made in infrastructure and that we become a county that is open for business!

What is the top issue in your race?

The need for economic growth and development is the greatest challenge facing Henry County today. While neighboring counties in the region are seeing ground breaking at new and growing businesses, Henry County is seeing vacant tracts of land where successful and thriving businesses once stood. Our location is prime and center between the three largest metropolitan regions in the state, yet we're not taking advantage of it. I want to change that. Investments in infrastructure like utility expansion along the interstate corridor is where we need to start. If we don't have anything to offer investors and entrepreneurs, they're going to go elsewhere to build their business.

As a full-time Paramedic for Kentucky's two largest EMS agencies, I know firsthand the need for capable and sufficient public safety resources. I support the Sheriff making his staff available 24/7, and also consolidating and adequately funding our fire departments and EMS. By bringing the six fire departments together with EMS, we can cross-train our staffed personnel, alleviate duplication in services, and combine funding that can sufficiently and safely equip our responders to do the job. This will provide a more prompt and proficient service while lowering insurance premiums for the property owner.

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

I believe that I am the best candidate for Magistrate of District # 5 because I believe that it is not the job of the government to control the people, but it is the job of the people to control the government. Because I believe that without the citizens, there is no government. The people of District 5, whether they vote for me or not, for whether it is the county budget, ordinances or laws, down to every roadway, no matter their age or where they live, I am outspoken and am a true person. I will fight for whatever is important to them. I believe that all people should be treated the same. This is the way that I feel in my heart and soul and this is why I know that I am the best selection for Magistrate of District # 5.

What is the top issue in your race?

I believe that all the rights of Henry County citizens come first whether individual, land ownership or constitutional. For without them, all other things are moot. For when county ordinances or laws are passed that take the fundamental rights away, we cease to be free to govern ourselves. So when I look at any roads, new or old ordinances, laws or budget, fundamental rights must come first! For without strong individual rights and well maintained roadways, Henry County cannot grow or even have fundamental rights to be a community. If common sense is not used in Henry County government, the citizens of Henry County will suffer the loss of a strong future for all generations to come.

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

I am running for city council for my 4th term and feel that I make a better, more qualified candidate because of my experience, proven dedication, and dependability to this community. Serving on the city council means always working in the best interest of the community and striving to do what is right for the greater good. Over the past six years, I have done just that.

I have proven my dependability and dedication to this community, working tirelessly to ensure the completion and success of all projects and programs. I work diligently to find a resolution of all issues facing our city including my involvement with Alcohol Beverage Control (ABC) whose purpose is to provide sellers and servers the tools to responsibly serve and sell alcohol within our city. I share the responsibility to help maintain the cleanliness, beauty, and green space of our community such as assisting in the expansion of Coach D Park and working with other council members to maintain a budget for these projects.

I believe in giving back, especially to a community such as ours, and if elected, I will continue my efforts to ensure the continued success of our city as a whole.

What is the top issue in your race?

One of the main issues a city faces is attracting new businesses. If elected, I will focus my efforts on continued economic development while striving for historical preservation as much as possible, along the way. I will work diligently to bring more businesses to our area and utilize existing resources by filling the empty store fronts along Main Street. I will also, concentrate on the manufacturing industry and encourage any of these businesses to hire local contractors and laborers. By focusing on economic development, we obtain increased revenue for the city and other businesses, and create local jobs for the residents of our community.

My dedication is to this community, and I will strive to maintain an active role in preserving the small town charm, as well as the successful future of this city. I am privileged to have served the past six years as a member of city council for the wonderful people of this community. It is these residents that make up the foundation of our city and I will never lose sight of that.

Campaign phone number: (502) 639-0096

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

I believe as a city councilman, you should put personal feelings and agendas aside and listen to the needs of the city. Decisions should be made based on what's best for the city, after listening to both sides of each issue.

What is the top issue in your race?

The biggest issue in our town is allowing enough progress to keep the city moving forward and balancing that with trying to keep our small town atmosphere and attitude.

Ed Frederick

Education: High school in Lexington, KY.

Relevant experience/community involvement: Never held public office, Local Business owner and employer

Campaign phone number: 859-621-3770

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

I think I would make a good City Council member for the following reasons. 1. I feel cities need to be run by the people who run businesses and employ the people of the city. They have a bigger interest in seeing that the city is successful. 2. I feel I have the business experience to look objectively at budgets and taxes. 3. Not being an Eminence native, I feel it will be easier for me to deal with issues on a more professional basis.

What is the top issue in your race?

I think the most important issues facing Eminence are controlling growth while preserving the historic nature of the city. To create reasons for people to visit Eminence. We need an attractive Main street with warm and inviting store fronts. To control spending and taxes.

Robert Goss

Education: High School graduate Butler Traditional High School

Campaign email: robgoss4eminencecitycouncil@gmail.com

Relevant experience / community involvement: Having worked in all three fields of public safety (police, fire, and EMS) I have a good understanding of what it takes to make a community safe which I feel should be the top priority of any person holding public office. I have served on several committees involving budgeting and financing to ensure appropriate and responsible use of all tax dollars. I will be relatively new to politics and will pursue office with an open mind and fresh perspective of our community's needs.

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

After moving from Louisville to Eminence in 2007 my family and I have fallen in love with the small town charm and slower pace of life. I am eager to serve the residents of Eminence and make their voices heard. After all, it is the citizen who the council members and mayor work for. I am treating my campaign like a job interview because that is what I am truly asking for, to be hired to work as your representative on the council. One of the main reasons my family chose to move to Eminence when I changed professions was because of Eminence Independent Schools outstanding reviews and scores. I hope to strengthen the bond and working relationship between city and school officials. Understanding that the youth of the city is everyone's responsibility and the key to our success.

What is the top issue in your race?

There are several key issues that are at the top of my list to pursue as a member of the city council. Economic development and local jobs are very important to me. Maintaining the upward trend in the city in regards to attracting new businesses, manufacturing facilities and home developments. But as I stated earlier the right to feel safe is a fundamental right for all citizens and should be a top priority for all elected officials. That is why I plan to make public safety my top priority. I want to ensure that the citizens of Eminence continue to feel safe in their homes and neighborhoods. I hope to work directly with our public safety officials to ensure they have the tools and resources to do their job while being responsible financially with the taxpayer's money.

I have been on the city council for three terms (6 yrs). I have learned more about city government from year to year and feel there is a lot more that needs to be done to keep our community growing. I would like to be a part of the continuing process.

What is the top issue in your race?

My opinion is that all the issues have equal importance. I have done my best to serve all the people of the community. If re-elected, I will continue to serve to the best of my ability.

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

I am a lifelong resident of Eminence, and have a sincere passion and commitment to serve this community. My years of experience in city government and in business provide me with the tools I need to continue to make significant and lasting contributions to our wonderful city. I have been blessed to work at Eminence Speaker LLC for 32 years, where I am the OEM Sales Manager. I have been fortunate to work with the leadership of Bob Gault, Rob Gault and Chris Rose, as well as talented businessmen and women who lead the companies Eminence Speaker serves. These experiences and relationships have afforded me the opportunity to learn about, be a part of, and become able to create a team environment. Being an Eminence City Councilman or in any branch of government is about being a team player. It is nearly impossible to make a difference on your own. It takes a group of people working together with common goals to make a difference. Those goals should always revolve around what is best for the citizens of Eminence.

What are the top issues in your race?

As with every small city in America today, the biggest issue is sustaining local businesses and city services. We are fortunate that we have had a great City Council for the past 8 years. The council has been able to keep an active and fair budget for each department. By working closely with each city department, we have come in under budget every year while maintaining the services that we provide. By managing city money wisely and always anticipating contingencies, we are much better prepared when the unexpected happens. Most importantly, if you look around the city of Eminence, you'll notice that we are growing. When we provide a healthy and inviting environment for our residents and local businesses, we will consistently grow and better our community. I'd like to think our city council has been instrumental in this healthy and controlled growth.

Mayor of New Castle

Dennis Benham

Education: Graduated from Henry County High School
Relevant experience/community involvement: I have been a commissioner of New Castle for two years and mayor of New Castle for four years.
Campaign phone number: (502) 321-8877

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

I have six years of experience in city government. I love working for and with the people of New Castle and trying to keep our city alive and growing.

What is the top issue in your race?

It's to try and keep New Castle growing and to keep it as clean a city as possible, working with our Main Street Manager in keeping the city buildings in downtown looking good. And trying to keep business growing here and keeping our county seat a pretty and clean place to visit.

Trevor Jarrell

Education: JCC/ EKU
Relevant Experience/ Community Involvement: Worked with the Boys & Girls Club in Richmond, KY while in college.
Facebook Page: Trevor Jarrell For Mayor Of New Castle, KY
Campaign Phone Number: 502-640-4118

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

In the past 4 years, I have developed a strong interest in our small town. There is potential for growth with increased community involvement. My goal is to enhance old traditions with new ideas. I have the ambition and drive to pursue not only my goals, but yours as well!!!

What is the top issue in your race?

The top issue in my race is the safety and security of our town. Myself and the residents of New Castle work hard for what we have and want to keep it. With the current events that have become troublesome for some residents.

tion of New Castle, i.e. planting trees, adding park benches along our streets and more. As a part of the Main Street Committee, I've worked to promote family fun with the New Castle Classic Movie Nights. I've spent numerous hours in surrounding communities promoting our town. My passion is our town and helping the people of our community by bringing in new business that will provide jobs for the residents in our town. Although I have a passion for business and creating opportunities for others, my love is our town and its overwhelming beauty that I call home. These are the values I hold true to my heart and the attributes that I feel make me the perfect candidate for this position.

What is the top issue in your race?

I would like to save our small town U.S.A., while promoting numerous business opportunities that would create economic growth while maintaining its country charm and feel. I would like to promote secure environment for our youth and elders. I look forward to promoting tourism for New Castle and Henry County by actually participating in such events as our Patriotic Festival, promoting our beautiful courthouse with its clock tower and the Berry Center. I look forward in standing shoulder to shoulder and offering my support to all new business owners to enhance economic prosperity for our community.

Commission meetings for several years before serving on the Commission.

I was born and raised here in New Castle and have the City and its citizens needs in my heart. I go to several local and regional festivals promoting New Castle. Have been instrumental in bringing several businesses to New Castle.

This year we lowered the property taxes for New Castle residents. We have purchased and built a new public parking lot, and will be working on a city green park. Have had a monthly Classic Movie Night in warm weather. Installed HVAC in The Locker. Purchased new City Hall building to have more room.

As you can see the commission has done a lot and I would love to remain on the commission so we can do more great things for New Castle.

What is the top issue in your race?

I am currently working on and will remain working on getting new businesses for New Castle. Also growing the festivals, which are in the top of small town festivals in Kentucky.

Am also promoting New Castle and will remain doing that so other people can come and visit our quaint town. The more people that comes here, the more businesses we will have.

Will also continue reporting New Castle residents concerns. Am currently working on having groups to come to New Castle and stop and visit with us.

Together we can bring New Castle back to the grandeur of its past with modern conveniences.

As you can see I love being a City Commissioner and I ask for your vote on Tuesday, Nov. 4. Thank you and God bless New Castle and us all.

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

Serving as the Family Court Judge is a challenging and demanding role, and I am honored to serve the families of Henry County. I have proven over the past nine years that I maintain an efficient and impartial court. I have kept my commitment to holding court regularly in Henry, Oldham and Trimble counties. I do this because of my desire to help families and protect children in our community. I instituted a CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocate) program in the Circuit, and have directed truancy diversion programs in Henry County as well as Oldham and Trimble counties. I am a frequent guest speaker at community and school programs.

Perhaps the best indication of my qualification is that, during my time on the bench, several judges and attorneys from around the state have chosen to litigate their personal divorce actions in my court.

What is the top issue in your race?

Despite losing a staff position in recent years due to budget cuts, I handle an exhaustive caseload. I routinely work through weekends to dictate orders so that my court docket does not suffer. With the support of the voters in the 12th Judicial Circuit, I hope to continue my record of excellence in the handling of adoption, dependency, domestic violence, status offense and dissolution of marriage cases.

I will continue to work on the state panel for reduction of child abuse, and continue to seek reasonable alternatives to incarceration of adolescents. I will continue to use my experience on the bench, in the legislature, and in private practice to advocate for families and children, and for the improvement of our court system. I have worked hard during the last nine years to ensure that each litigant in my court receives a full and fair hearing. I humbly ask for your vote on Nov. 4, 2014, so that I may continue to serve the families of the 12th Judicial Circuit.

Campaign website/Facebook page: electmichaelpate.com; Michael Pate for Family Court Judge

Campaign phone number: (502) 225-0056

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

I have a depth of knowledge and experience in family law that my opponent does not possess. I have represented clients in every kind of case that is heard in Family Court. I will make every decision in every case in accordance with Kentucky law, the facts of each case and common sense. I will not decide case based upon the attorney appearing before me, my priorities, prejudices, personal opinion or political alliances.

What is the top issue in your race?

Efficient and effective case management. At present it takes too long between the hearing and the entry of an order. When orders are entered, they are often not in compliance with Kentucky law and the facts of the case and it is necessary to file motions to convert the mistakes which needlessly increases the cost to the litigants.

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

I will uphold the Constitution and not engage in judicial legislation. I am a strong proponent of state rights and the right to keep and bear arms. I have extensive trial and appellate experience in both state and federal courts. I am a good listener.

What is the top issue in your race?

Judicial legislation and state rights. Recently two federal courts issued opinions that effect U.S. citizens' constitutional rights: the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Sebelius v. Hobby Lobby and U.S. District Judge Heyburn's decision in Love v. Steve Beshear. In Hobby Lobby the Court, in a 5 to 4 decision, held that some family owned or closely held businesses could opt out of a federal requirement to pay for some types of contraception in health care coverage for their workers based on religious objections. The Love case held that Kentucky's ban on same sex marriage is unconstitutional.

No matter where you stand on the issues, in our system of government the people hold the ultimate power and the people have the right to control their future. Today many courts rule by this notion of a "living constitution" or that the Constitution should be interpreted in accordance with the times. The Constitution is not a living organism. It is a legal text. While it does mention religious freedom, it does not address the issue of gay marriage. States hold the ultimate power to determine laws controlling marriage, and any questions of gay marriage should be resolved at the state level. Any changes to the state's marriage laws should be left to the people through their elected officials. Legislating from the bench gives too much power to the courts and it allows them to govern. Judicial legislation violates the valued and treasured principle that has defined our country since its founding: that the three branches of government, which equal, are separate.

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

During my eight years of service on the Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court, I have given my best effort every day to live up to the Oath I took to uphold the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of Kentucky. I have the experience necessary to continue doing so, and I have the confidence of my peers, both on the bench and in the bar that I will continue to do so. In the 2014 Northern Kentucky Bar Association judicial survey, current and retired judges and members of the bar stated by an overwhelming majority that I am impartial, objective, attentive, and of good character and integrity. They also stated that I am qualified for the position because of my legal experience and ability. Additionally, I have the confidence of our Chief Justice, who appointed me to serve as chair of the Court of Justice Technology Governance Committee, which is working to upgrade court technology. My colleagues at the Court of Appeals also showed their confidence in me by electing me to serve as their representative on the Judicial Conduct Commission, which monitors the ethical behavior of judges. I pledge to continue applying the law fairly and impartially.

Relevant Experience/community involvement: I am the current Kentucky Court of Appeals Judge and am running to retain my seat. In addition to the on-the-job experience I have as the sitting Court of Appeals Judge, I have over seven years of prior work experience as a public judicial servant and several years of experience as a practicing attorney. Immediately prior to sitting on the Court of Appeals, I served as an Administrative Law Judge for the Commonwealth of Kentucky presiding over workers' compensation claims throughout the state. Prior to serving as an Administrative Law Judge, I worked as a staff attorney for the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Kentucky for more than five years. Before my judicial service in federal and state courts, I practiced law at Stites & Harbison PLLC, the oldest law firm in Kentucky, where I specialized in complex business litigation and intellectual property matters. Immediately after graduating from law school, I practiced at Fenwick & West in Palo Alto, Calif., as an intellectual property litigation attorney.

Community Involvement: I developed and implemented a constitutional law program for elementary school classes. To date, I have taught this class to students in every one of my 21 counties. I have also been active in heroin-related community-education. I organized and co-hosted a heroin forum for the residents of Oldham, Shelby, Henry, Trimble, Carroll, and Spencer counties. Over 150 citizens attended the forum and the video presentation has been viewed almost 1,000 times on YouTube. I am also actively involved in the following community organizations: Kentucky Bar Association, Northern Kentucky Bar Association, Northern Kentucky Women's Initiative Network, Vice President of Transylvania's Northern Kentucky Alumni Association, Coalition for a Healthy Oldham County, University of Kentucky College of Law Alumni Association, National Association of Women Judges, St. Francis Episcopal Church, Salmon P. I am the only candidate with prior judicial experience and have substantially more practical legal experience than my opponent. My prior work experience has allowed me to develop an expertise in many different areas of the law that the Kentucky Court of Appeals regularly confronts. Additionally, my prior service as an administrative law judge provided me with first-hand knowledge of the issues facing trial-level judges, which is invaluable to me as an appellate judge. I have been a public judicial servant for almost nine years serving both in the federal and state courts. During that time I have worked tirelessly to improve the judicial system for ordinary citizens. I am the only candidate to have dedicated the majority of his/her professional career to public service. I have demonstrated my willingness and ability to tackle tough issues that affect the judicial system and to respond to the concerns of the bar and ordinary citizens. For example, I have taken an active role in working with other public servants and community leaders to battle the heroin epidemic and have successfully advocated for increased funding for treatment centers and better judicial programs to deal with drug addiction.

What is the top issue in your race?

The top issue in my race is drug crimes, especially heroin. I am the only candidate that has worked within the judicial system to combat heroin and other drug-abuse related crimes. I have traveled extensively throughout our twenty-one county district listening to citizens, elected officials and law enforcement officers. Without fail, these individuals identify heroin as the number one problem facing our communities. The judicial system is no exception. Our family court and criminal dockets have increased due to heroin and there is a greater demand for diversion programs, like Kentucky's drug court. In September 2013, I wrote Attorney General Jack Conway a letter expressing my concerns, requesting more funding for heroin-related prevention and treatment programs, and recommending a creative funding solution. In January 2014, Attorney General Conway implemented my proposed funding solution by pledging to use millions of dollars his office recovered from settlements with two pharmaceutical companies to expand substance abuse treatment throughout the Commonwealth. I have also worked to increase awareness of the heroin epidemic by sponsoring educational community forums. If re-elected to the Court of Appeals, I will continue my work of increasing public awareness and my collaboration with other officials to ensure that the judiciary has the funding and tools necessary to reduce recidivism among heroin addicts and impose stiffer penalties for heroin traffickers.

Justin Sanders

Education: Summit Country Day School, Cincinnati, Ohio, High School Diploma, 1995; University of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois (Attended First Year of Undergraduate School before transferring to the University of Kentucky); B.A. in Political Science, Magna Cum Laude, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky, 2000; J.D., Cum Laude, Pepperdine University School of Law, Malibu, California, 2004.

Relevant Experience: Attorney at Law, private practice with The Sanders Law Firm, Covington, Kentucky. The focus of my work is representing serious injury victims and their families in complex civil litigation. I also handle other kinds of cases, such as representing police officers in disciplinary matters; representing physicians before licensure boards, representing businesses; and providing legal support for a number of charitable organizations.

I have served as an Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney, Kenton Commonwealth's Attorney's Office, Covington, Kentucky. In that position, I prosecuted a wide range of criminal cases, including: murder, child abuse, drug trafficking, assault, burglary, welfare fraud, and theft. An interesting note: I obtained the first felony conviction in Kentucky for torture of a cat or dog.

Community Involvement: I serve as a youth sports coach for teams associated with the Ft. Thomas (Campbell County) School District and volunteer for various school-related activities. I do volunteer work with Isaiah House Ministries, a multi-denominational organization that distributes food, clothing, and personal care supplies to poor and working poor families. I helped found the A.J. Cohen Memorial Fund, a charity dedicated to educating high school and college-age students about fire safety and prevention.

I have served for eleven years as a volunteer staff member for the American Youth Foundation ("AYF"), at the organization's annual National Leadership Conference in Shelby, Michigan. The AYF teaches and fosters leadership skills in young adults, so that they may make a positive impact in their own communities. I am a graduate of the AYF's leadership program and was named a Mentor for the Leadership Conference's class of 2003.

I am a member of the Campbell County Game and Fish Protective Association. The purposes of that organization include promoting conservation of Kentucky's wildlife, forests, streams, and other natural resources; teaching and promoting safe firearms handling and skills; and facilitating family-oriented recreational activities for members and their guests.

Why are you the best selection for the office you seek?

I am the only candidate with experience litigating both criminal and civil cases in real courtrooms. I have handled cases in both trial and appellate courts, including the Kentucky Supreme Court. My hard work and dedication to justice have earned me the endorsement of the Kentucky State Fraternal Order of Police and many of the best prosecutors, criminal defense attorneys, and civil litigation attorneys in the state, on both the plaintiff and defense sides. Those endorsements are reliable, sound evidence that I have the experience, skills, ability, and temperament necessary to win the confidence and support of the people who know best what it takes to be a good judge on the Court of Appeals.

I am also the only candidate in the race who has practiced law within the Sixth Appellate Court District. I know the District, its people, and its values very well. I am best able to represent the people of the Sixth because I am one - bred, born, raised, and working every day of my life in the counties that comprise the heart of the Sixth Appellate District.

What is the top issue in your race?

The biggest issue in this race is real courtroom experience. Unlike my opponent, I have actually practiced law and argued cases before judges and juries in this District. I have prosecuted baby killers, child abusers, animal abusers, drug dealers, robbers, and thieves. I have represented Kentucky citizens, families, and small business owners in civil court. Unlike my opponent, I have real experience litigating the kinds of issues that come before the Court of Appeals every day. I know and understand how the decisions of the Court of Appeals affect the rights of Kentucky citizens and impact how attorneys must prepare their cases for trial.

My opponent claims to have "judicial experience" because the Governor appointed her to temporarily fill a vacancy until the voters select their judge in the next election. She has little, if any, courtroom experience or experience in representing real people. Without that kind of experience, my opponent is not qualified to be a judge of the Court of Appeals.

I have been in the trenches my entire career, representing individuals, businesses, and the Commonwealth of Kentucky. I have the real courtroom experience that people expect and deserve from an appellate court judge.

What is the top issue in your race?

Access to Justice for all Kentuckians. I believe that the Rule of Law and an independent judiciary are the cornerstones of our democracy and that denying access to justice to any citizen undermines those cornerstones. In order to maintain that judicial independence and ensure access to justice to all Kentuckians, I believe that judges and justices must resist the imposition of partisan politics into the judicial arena. Furthermore, in order to ensure that the courts of the Commonwealth are open to all citizens, the judicial branch must be adequately funded. The current economic climate has made it difficult to provide necessary court services due to underfunding of our budget; however, I have worked with the other Justices of the Supreme Court and will continue to do so in an effort to secure adequate and appropriate funding for the Court of Justice. As a long-term cost saving measure we recently upgraded our court technology system bringing our court system into the 21st century by providing a means for parties to electronically file documents. The ultimate goal is to have all court documents on-line, thus opening the courthouse doors to those who are not able to travel to the clerk's office.

SEN. RAND PAUL ENDORSES RICKY DOYLE FOR HENRY COUNTY JUDGE - EXECUTIVE

"In the race for Henry County Judge Executive, I am endorsing Ricky Doyle.

Ricky is a pro-growth, fiscal conservative who believes in low taxes and limited government.

He has promised an open-door policy and improved transparency for Henry County. That makes Ricky my kind of candidate.

I hope you will consider voting for Ricky Doyle for Judge Executive.
